TO REFORM THE LORDS

Henry Labouchere, the Well-Known Radical, Will Offer a Resolution to Abolish the Lords.

If the Ministers Want a Second Chamber It Should be Formed of Elected Members.

A Liberal Paper Advises Delay to See How the Lords Will Treat Several Measures.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—A letter written by Henry Labouchere has been public, in which the well known Radical says that if the queen's speech opening the next session of parliament does not contain a declaration that a reform of the house of lords is necessary, he will move an amendment to the address in reply to the speech, declaring that the power of the hereditary and episcopal branch of the legislature to reject or alter bills approved by the house of commons should cease.

Mr. Labouchere, in his letter, adds that the adoption of the address in reply to the queen's speech ought to be immediately followed by the passage of a bill to abolish the house of lords. He adds that if the ministers want a second chamber it should be formed of members elected by popular vote.

The Westminster Gazette (Liberal), commenting on Mr. Labouchere's letter, says that the introduction of a bill to abolish the house of lords would be tantamount to a dissolution of the house of commons within three months. The paper adds that it would be best to wait until it is seen how the house of lords

The Human Electrical Forces

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical forces of the human body, as they may be termed, are an especially attractive department of science, as it is one of the most recent and most important of the sciences. It is the study of the forces which control the organs of the body, and the study of the forces which control the organs of the body. It is the study of the forces which control the organs of the body, and the study of the forces which control the organs of the body. It is the study of the forces which control the organs of the body, and the study of the forces which control the organs of the body.

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, but treat the organs of the body as if they were mere machines. The most successful treatment of the organs of the body is the treatment of the organs of the body. The most successful treatment of the organs of the body is the treatment of the organs of the body. The most successful treatment of the organs of the body is the treatment of the organs of the body.

ORDER OF LOYAL AMERICANS.

Spread of the New Semi-Secret Industrial Order.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—A dispatch to a morning paper from Lansing, Mich., says: Grand Commander D. A. Reynolds, of the Ancient Order of Loyal Americans, the new semi-secret industrial organization which is creating such a furore in Kansas and other states, said last night that he should leave his home in this city Tuesday night for Chicago where he expects to muster in thirty-three regiments of the order.

"The United Labor organizations of that city," he said, "have decided to enlist under our banner, which I think, will give the order a new and wonderful impetus." Commander Reynolds says the organization now has a strong footing in forty-four states and territories and that 1500 counties are completely organized. He expects to enlist 1000 recruits in this city before leaving for Chicago.

WILL NOW BE HANGED.

A Woman to be Released From an Insane Asylum and Executed.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—A dispatch to a morning paper from Atlanta, Ga., says: Ella Fayson, who has been in the lunatic asylum here, will be released in order that she may be hanged. Her case is a peculiar one. Sentenced first for life for the murder of Theodore Gromwell, her attorneys obtained a new trial for her. In the meantime Reeves, who had done the killing, was caught, tried and hanged. She was then tried and also sentenced to hang.

WAS BLOWN TO PIECES.

Dastardly Attempt to Kill a Whole Family in St. Louis.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—A dispatch from St. Louis says: The family of Paul Kuhel, of 1505 Dillon avenue, consisting of himself, wife and several children, had a narrow escape of a most horrible death last night.

ALL ON BOARD LOST.

Sixty Men Drowned by the Sinking of a Steam Tug.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 19.—A rumor published here about a week ago, telling of the loss of the steam tug Millard belonging to the Nicaragua Navigation company off the Nicaraguan coast and having on board sixty men, is confirmed. Not a single man aboard the vessel escaped to tell the story.

Cheap Rates to California.

The Northern Pacific Railroad company has put into effect a series of low round trip rates to California points. Tickets are good until July 15th, 1894 and are good for stopover under certain conditions.

These rates will enable those desiring to do so, to spend the winter in Southern California, or to visit the coast. This latter event will undoubtedly be second only to the World's fair, and will pay a visit to the World's fair, and will pay a visit to the World's fair, and will pay a visit to the World's fair.

SESSION TO BE LONG

Those Who Thought Congress Would Adjourn in May or June Are Revising Their Predictions.

The Latest Estimate of Adjournment By the Most Hopeful Carries the Date Into July.

Another Bill Which Aims at Still Further Restricting the Operations of the Louisiana Lottery.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Insiders and outsiders who predicted that the first session of the Fifty third congress would end in May or early in June are a little shy of prophecy. As the days go on, it becomes apparent that it is to be a very long session, indeed. Called together in August last, the only measures of national importance which have received the signature of the president are the bill to repeal the purchasing clause of the Sherman act and the bill to repeal the federal election laws. That is the result of something like five months of work.

Although the Wilson bill has passed the chamber of its origin, experienced legislators know that it is still many a weary mile from the president's desk. Frank to say so. Those miles are strewn with stumps and boulders, quarried with mud holes and seamed with gulches. Outside of the tariff bill, which awaits many changes and a long debate, there are hundreds of other measures for consideration, many of them of much importance.

The latest estimate of adjournment, made by even the most hopeful, carries the date well into July. Others name August, September or even October as the month of parting. The only thing deemed strong enough to force an adjournment of speed is the fact that the congressional campaigns are soon to open, and many, very many of the Democratic fences are sadly in need of repair.

The Louisiana Lottery.

The attempt of the Louisiana lottery company to re-establish itself on United States soil at an obscure point in the state of Florida, has called attention to the federal statutes, and with the purpose in view of making them even more binding than they are, Senator Hoar has introduced a bill supplementary to all existing legislation. This bill is patterned after the New York statutes to some extent and copies the New York statutory definition of a "lottery," which, in the case of the people's Noelle, quoted in the Forty-sixth American reporter, is held to be sufficient.

Under this New York definition which Mr. Hoar copies, the term "lottery" as used in the act means a scheme for the distribution of property by chance among persons who have paid or agreed to pay a valuable consideration for the chance, whether called a lottery, raffle, or gift enterprise or by some other name.

The second section, which is also taken partly from the New York penal code, refers to the possession of or bringing into the United States of tickets and extends the present law more rigidly than before, to mailing, importation, interstate commerce, etc., making the first offense punishable by fine or imprisonment, and continued offence by incarceration only.

Unique Legislation.

It has grown to be the custom in the introduction of certain classes of bills, where the reasons for the proposed legislation is not clear, to prepare the bill with preambles and whereas, none of which appear after the bills have been voted upon by committee. The latest specimen of this kind is a unique piece of legislation proposed by Mr. Hooker, of Mississippi, and which has for its object an important change in the postal laws.

The whereas sets forth that copyrighted books of authors (at whose relief the bill aims) desiring to exercise their rights under the constitution, are legal merchandise in the literary market; and the privilege of the reduced rate of a cent a pound postage accorded to publishers, a privilege from which the people of the United States, their authors and all other professions are excluded, results in great hardship to authors who desire to themselves of their rights, not only on account of the difference in the rate, but because it has had the effect of creating among dealers in books the impression that the publishers and their agents, the "American News company, publishers agents," which, with its countless branches, its innumerable agents and its well-thrifted stock service, manages the literary market to the finest point, are the only parties legally entitled to issue the books which they consider proper for the public.

Therefore, Mr. Hooker provides that the law originally intended to benefit newspapers, and so amended as to include books in paper covers professing to be periodical publications, at the rate of a cent a pound, shall be extended to authors who desire to exercise the right of owning, circulating and selling their own works as they deem best. The bill provides that printed matter should be sent through the mails at one uniform rate, no matter whether once sent or sent any number of times; nor shall any statement be required concerning it, except that it is printed matter.

WERE OVERCOME BY GAS.

Eight Men Asphyxiated at Kansas City and One May Die.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—A dispatch from Kansas City says: Eight men were overcome by gas in the basement of the power house of the Fifth street cable in Kansas City, Kan., last night, and one of them, Superintendent C. P. Kline, may die. The men were arrested by police without knowing that a gas main had been broken by the accident.

The list of victims are as follows: C. P. Kline, superintendent, condition serious; Voorhes, assistant superintendent; Robert Lynch, R. N. Smalley, D. D. Powell, George Hamm; Charles Brooks, William Brooks. Several strands of the cable broke and became twisted around a gas main in the basement, the main being the main in two. Seven conductors and gripmen went down to splice the cable, and while at work, were asphyxiated. The break in the gas main was not discovered until the men had succumbed to the gas.

A Mysterious Case.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—A dispatch from Cincinnati says: A mysterious prisoner is being held at police headquarters here. He gives his name as John McGinn, and was arrested by Detective Keating last night after a desperate struggle, during which a boy companion of the man escaped. The police claim that this boy was Edward Brotherton, the missing lad of Lucerne county, Pennsylvania. McGinn says that he came here four weeks ago from Kanook, Pa., and that the boy is his brother.

BALFOUR FIGHTS EXTRADITION.

An English Swindler Who is in the Argentine Republic.

BUENOS AYRES, Feb. 19.—The lawyer who has been employed to defend Jabez Spencer Balfour against the attempts of the British government to secure his extradition to England, says that before Balfour came to Buenos Ayres, he went to Monaco, where he lost very large sums of money gambling. The British authorities, he adds, allowed Balfour free scope to escape, and now want to procure his extradition in order to repel the Tory insinuations that he helped to secure the Liberal victory at the general election.

Balfour was formerly a Liberal member of parliament and was deeply interested in building societies. Shortly after the failure of the Liberator Building society, in which he was a leading spirit, he fled from England to escape trial on a charge of swindling that and other societies that were carried down by the Liberator crash. He went to the Argentine Republic, and it was reported he was living in luxury.

Recently an extradition treaty was arranged between Great Britain and the Argentine Republic, and it was popularly supposed that Balfour, who had been arrested at the instance of the British government, would be at once sent to England to answer the charges against him. Balfour, however, intends to fight the British government on the ground that the treaty cannot and does not cover offenses committed or alleged to have been committed before it was negotiated.

It is the opinion of several English law journals that Balfour's point is well taken and will result in his discharge by the Argentine government, unless the latter decides to surrender him as a matter of courtesy instead of a matter of law.

IT WAS A FUNNY MISTAKE.

A Man Appointed and Confirmed for the Wrong Office.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—A funny mistake was made by the postoffice department recently, adopted by the president and confirmed by the senate. Representative Fithian, of Illinois, lives at Nashville, in that state, a postoffice of the third class, worth $1500. By some error the department sent the papers to the president designating Mr. Luke for postmaster at Nashville, Iowa. Notwithstanding Mr. Fithian's name was on the papers, the president sent Mr. Luke's name to the senate last Monday for postmaster at the Iowa Nashville. This is a little fourth class office, paying less than $100 a year.

The department discovered its mistake the next morning and informed the president. He had Mr. Fithian telephone the chief clerk of the senate of the error. The answer came back that the error would be corrected, but it was not.

On Wednesday, in a hall in the Peckham light, the senate confirmed David Luke as postmaster of Nashville, Iowa. Of course, Mr. Luke will not accept and, of course, his name will be sent in for Nashville, Ill., and he will be confirmed.

MR. GLADSTONE'S EYESIGHT.

A Prominent Oculist Denies That Blindness is Threatened.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—Dr. Granger, of Chester, the physician and oculist, who has been in attendance upon Mr. Gladstone, was interviewed today in regard to the condition of Mr. Gladstone's eyes, it having been said in some quarters that the prime minister was threatened with blindness, resulting from cataracts.

Dr. Granger said that Mr. Gladstone's eyes were as strong as they were a year ago. His general health was good. He further said, when questioned upon the statement that he had been summoned to examine Mr. Gladstone's eyes on the evening of a week ago of the prime minister from Biarritz, France, that he was to make an examination, but had no intention of doing so until Easter.

Eight Persons Injured.

MADRID, Feb. 19.—A railway train was today thrown from the track near Oviedo, capital of the province of that name. Eight persons were injured.

"What Hath God Wrought?"

The long life of S. F. B. Morse, the inventor of the magnetic telegraph, is one of almost romantic struggle and interest. Born in 1791, he was graduated from Yale college at 18, and having strong artistic tastes, studied painting under Allston, which he afterwards followed with success. Returning in 1820 from Europe, he became much interested in a discussion on electricity, and then and there conceived the basic idea of telegraphy, the interval in an interrupted current being made long or short at will. But he did not take this up until he failed to be awarded the decorating of the capitol building at Washington. Abandoning painting, he worked for twelve years in poverty and amid many discouragements, until on Feb. 23, 1844 congress made an appropriation for an experimental line between Baltimore and Washington. May 24, the same year, the line was completed and the words that head this paragraph were sent by the inventor. He rendered possible the present railroad system of our country, for it could be operated safely only by the aid of the telegraph. Telegraphic operation and synchronized time are what make travel so safe and speedy on the Burlington. For tickets, rates, or any information, address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

Oh, My Heart!

Palpitation and Rheumatism.

Mr. James S. Jones, Bruce, Wis.

"From my experience I think Hood's Sarsaparilla will do everything it claims and more too. It surely cured to my heartfelt thanks. I think it's the best medicine in the world. For 25 years, I have suffered with palpitation of the heart and rheumatism. I tried everything I could hear of, but none of the remedies did me any good, in fact I grew worse all the time until I tried Hood's Sarsaparilla."

A Bomb Exploded in a Hotel, Injuring Madame Calabesco, the Proprietress, and Two Lodgers.

Every Window Pane in the House Blown to Atoms and the Three Badly Injured.

The Streets in the Vicinity Were Soon Swarming With People and Great Excitement Prevailed.

PARIS, Feb. 20.—A bomb exploded at about 2 o'clock this morning in a small hotel at No. 69 Rue St. Jacques. The hotel is situated in the rear of the college of France. The proprietress of the place, a woman named Calabesco, and two lodgers were injured. Yesterday afternoon strangers, one of whom gave his name as Rairique, inquired for apartments in the hotel. They were shown a room on the second floor, which they declared satisfied them and they engaged it.

They spent a short time in the room and then left, remaining casually as they passed out that they would be back in the evening. They did not return, however, and Madame Calabesco, who had become slightly suspicious of her new lodgers, went to their room to see if they had brought any luggage. The hotel keeper was alarmed by seeing a bomb lying on a shelf in the room. Without waiting to examine it she ran from the room and immediately sent for the police. While awaiting the coming of the officers, Madame Calabesco told two of her lodgers of her discovery, and in company with them went to the room. As the door from the room was opened, a terrific explosion occurred, which made a wreck of the room and everything in it. Every window pane in the house was blown into atoms. The landlady and the two lodgers with her were badly injured. Had they had time to enter the room, there is no question but that they would have been killed.

Notwithstanding the early hour, the news of the outrage spread and the streets in the vicinity were soon swarming with people. The greatest excitement prevailed. The police arrived promptly, and a cordon was established about the hotel, through which nobody save officials was allowed to pass. There are three theories to account for the explosion. One is that the bomb had a time fuse attached to it though, so far as can be learned, no smoke was seen ascending from it in the vicinity of the explosion. Another is that the bomb contained some acid solution that soaked through cotton or other material until it reached the explosive in the bottom of the infernal machine. The third theory is that the opening of the door destroyed the equilibrium of the bomb, which toppled over and fell to the floor, exploding by concussion.

As yet the police have not the slightest clue to the identity of the man who placed the bomb in the room. The excitement caused by this outrage was added to, when it was learned this forenoon that an attempt had been made to blow up, or at least injure, the handsome buildings of the ministry of foreign affairs on the Rue de Valenciennes. A tube was found lying at the entrance of the foreign office which it was suspected was loaded with dynamite. The tube was turned over to the police who will have its contents examined.

A bomb similar to the one that exploded in the hotel at No. 69 Rue St. Jacques was discovered in another small hotel at 47 Faubourg St. Martin. Fortunately the latter bomb was found and safely removed before any damage had been done.

THE CHICAGO GAS COMPANY.

The Attack on Its Existence as a Violation of Law.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—The Tribune says: Within the next two weeks quo warranto proceedings against the Chicago Gas company will be begun or a decision will be rendered that the information cannot be filed by Attorney General Molineux. John S. Cooper, who filed a petition with the former several weeks ago, praying that proceedings be begun, yesterday made an arrangement with Attorney General Molineux and arranged to be represented by counsel at the hearing. Upon the evidence as disclosed in the papers filed, and the arguments which will be made by Col. Cooper and the attorneys for the Chicago Gas company, it will depend the attorney general's action. This, the latter says, will be absolutely decisive and will settle for all time, as he puts it, all questions regarding the possibility of attacking the Chicago Gas company on the ground that its existence is in violation of the laws of Illinois.

President Billings said last night that W. J. Campbell would represent the interests of his company. It was reported during the afternoon that ex-Attorney General Hunt would be associated with Mr. Campbell. Mr. Hunt while in office brought the quo warranto proceeding which ended in the smash of the Chicago Gas trust. President Billings said he understood that Mr. Hunt was to be associated in the hearing. Mr. Hunt, however, denied this, saying that he had heard nothing of it.

A Death Blow.

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 20.—The supreme court this morning gave the "jag cure" law its death blow. It reversed the decision of Judge Kelley, of Alpena, who ordered the supervisors to pay for the cure of a patient at a gold cure establishment.

FRESNO, Cal., Feb. 20.—Evans and Morrell were brought here early this morning and safely landed in the city. They will receive their sentence of life imprisonment this afternoon.

ASSOCIATE JUSTICE WHITE.

Comments of the New York Press on Senator White's Appointment.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—Commenting on the nomination by the president of Senator White, of Louisiana, for the associate justice of the supreme court, and the senate's confirmation of the same, the Tribune says today: "The president did well to accept the lesson of two defeats and cease using a great office, which ought to be far removed from partisan and personal conflicts, as a trophy to be lost or won in battle. No president ever used his patronage more judiciously and discreetly for the purpose of alluring support which neither his wishes nor his cause could command."

The Herald says: "It is a matter for congratulation that this unseemly strife over a high appointment is at last brought to an end, and that the seat on the supreme bench which has been vacant so long is to be taken by a justice so well qualified as Senator White."

The Times says: "In respect to the character and fitness of the nominee the president's third nomination for justice of the supreme court is worthy of high praise. Nevertheless, Justice Blatchford's successor should have come from the state of New York, and for reasons far more weighty than mere state party or sectional interest, we insist that President Cleveland should not have allowed an ignominious senatorial cabal to sweep him from his original purpose. That purpose was right; he should have stuck to it."

The Recorder says: "The adherents of the administration will be quick to claim that the nomination of a man to fill this most important position and his rapid transit confirmation a few hours later is an administration victory. Mr. Hill's following, it is very certain, will point to it as a very great victory for their own 'Dave.' In this case the president took the knife of 'courtesy' out of Senator Hill's boot and left him powerless to make a single objection."

WILL NOT FIGHT A DUEL.

Buffalo Bill Says May Has Not Challenged Him.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—The Tribune says: Col. William F. Cody arrived in Chicago from Washington yesterday and is at the Auditorium annex. As to a rumor that he had called on a friend at St. Paul to act as his second in a duel with Fred May, the colonel said: "I am not going to fight a duel with anybody. May has not challenged me, and I am sure I have not challenged him."

Upon his arrival here Col. Cody found a telegram awaiting him from Dr. Frank Powell, mayor of La Crosse, Wis., saying: "I am anxious to command on all occasions and in every emergency." This undoubtedly gave rise to the rumor that he had accepted the challenge. The colonel and Dr. Powell have been close friends for a long time.

OF VERY DOUBTFUL VALUE.

Mismanagement of a Chicago Building and Loan Association.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—The grand jury yesterday was presented with full details of the alleged mismanagement in the affairs of the National Building and Loan association, and a demand was made for the indictment of Benjamin F. Stout, a former secretary of the association, and Oran C. Kneale, the office alleged being a conspiracy to commit a felony.

Examinations of the books showed the association had something like $150,000 liabilities and about $300,000 assets, which, however, were deemed a very small sum. One mortgage represented a loan of $75,000 made on thirty acres of land at Lewistown, in Northern Wisconsin, which place has been described as a "bullfrog farm" and estimated to be worth between $250 and $300.

STILLWATER STREET RAILWAY.

Judgment for Heavy Amount in Favor of the Bondholders.

STILLWATER, Minn., Feb. 20.—Judge Williston has filed an important decision in the district court in the case of Allen Curtis, trustee of the bondholders, against the Stillwater Street Railway company, awarding plaintiff judgment for $67,709.20. This represents the total bonds issued, $60,000 with accrued interest.

CAUSED AN AWFUL EXPLOSION.

A Young Man Threw a Can of Powder Into a Stove.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—A dispatch from Quincy, Ill., says: Hickory Thomas, Ed Urban, John Logan, Lath Bowles and Henry Jackson, employees of the city bill poster, were drinking beer in the bill room Sunday night. One of the lads on a banter threw a can of powder weighing six pounds into the stove.

A terrific explosion followed and one side of the frame building was blown out. All of the young men were more or less injured and burned. Thomas, it is feared, has lost his eyesight. None are fatally injured.

Was Tired of Life.

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—An inquest on the body of John Mangano, whose home is at Fond du Lac, Wis., who took morphine in his room at 288 West Randolph street, was held at the county morgue yesterday afternoon. The jury found that he committed suicide while despondent. Mangano was 23 years of age and worked as a clerk in the retail dry goods house of Marshall, Field & Co.

One Hundred Killed.

PARIS, Feb. 20.—A dispatch from St. Louis, Senegal, says that a French force marching to reinforce Capt. Philippe, at Timbuctoo, was fired upon by natives at Maifoume, a negro town. The French shelled the town and killed 100 of the natives. None of the French force was hurt. After thus punishing the natives the French force proceeded.

PEIXOTO WAS BEATEN

A Battle Fought Between the Insurgents and Government Forces in Brazil, the Former Winning.

Admiral Mello, on Board the Warship Republica, Preparing to Bombard the City of Santos.

He is Now Waiting for the Arrival of the Insurgents' Land Force From Sao Paulo.

LONDON, Feb. 20.—A despatch from Buenos Ayres, dated yesterday, says that a battle has been fought at Itapeva, 160 miles west of the city of Sao Paulo, between the insurgents and government forces. President Peixoto's troops were defeated. The despatch further says that Admiral Mello, who is on the insurgent warship Republica, intends to bombard the city of Santos as soon as the insurgents' land force, under Gen. Saravai, has arrived from Sao Paulo.

LAWLER WAS LEFT OUT.

All the Big Federal Offices in Illinois Now Filled.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The president today sent to the senate the following nominations: Delos P. Phelps, of Illinois, to be assistant treasurer of the United States at Chicago.

Frank G. Hoyle, of Illinois, to be collector of customs for the district of Chicago.

Russell N. Whittlesey, of Iowa, to be surveyor of customs for the port of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

To be marshals of the United States: John W. Arnold, of Illinois, for the northern district of Illinois; Eugene D. Winney, of Michigan, for the eastern district of Michigan.

Martin V. B. Spencer, of Indiana, to be pension agent at Indianapolis.

To be registers of land offices: B. F. Morris, of Idaho, at Lewiston, Idaho; Charles R. Glover, of Nebraska, at Valentine, Neb.; A. G. Lloyd, of Washington, at Walla Walla, Wash.

To be receivers of public moneys: M. G. Cagle, of Idaho, at Boise City, Idaho; J. A. Fike, of Nebraska, at Valentine, Neb.; L. M. Flournoy, of Washington, at Spokane, Wash.

A. M. Keller, of South Dakota, to be agent for the Indians of the Sisseton agency in South Dakota.

REMOVED BY THE GOVERNOR.

Three Michigan State Officials Dismissed by Governor Rick.

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 20.—Governor Rick did what he had threatened to do yesterday afternoon. He dismissed from his cabinet Secretary of State Jochim, State Treasurer Hamblitz and Land Commissioner Berry.

When Governor Rick called court to order yesterday the attorneys for the three state officials waived arguments and submitted the case as it stood that it might go to the supreme court, at once.

Governor Rick said: "The defendants are found guilty and are hereby formally removed."

The case will have a hearing before the supreme court on March 6.

THIS IS VERY CURIOUS.

Douglas County Board Protests Against All Bridge Bills.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—[Special to The Herald.]—Representative Haugen today presented a memorial from the county board of Douglas, Wis., against any bridge bills introduced for a bridge over the St. Louis river at Duluth. The county board is opposed to that feature of the bill which provides that the county may purchase the bridge.

Lynch Was the Winner.

PASSAIC, N. J., Feb. 20.—A kid glove fight to a finish took place at an early hour this morning near Passaic, between Jimmy Lynch, ex-champion, featherweight, and Jim Gray (colored), who stood off George Dixon, the world's champion featherweight, on two occasions. Lynch outclassed his man in every respect and put him out in the fourth round.

"Pat Rooney" Dead.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 20.—The famous chimpanzee, "Pat Rooney," is dead after several weeks of illness, the result of a general breaking down.

American Wheelmen.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 20.—The L. A. W. adopted the color line amendment and selected Denver as next place of meeting.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

Disposition of Cases in the Criminal Line This Morning.

In the criminal action of the district court this morning the trial of John Foley was continued. Foley is accused of having stolen County Attorney Tear's overcoat from his office.

The jury in the case of L. Nelson found him guilty of stealing dress goods from Johnson & Moe's store.

In the case of Matt Anderson against the Manchester Fire Insurance company the jury rendered a verdict for $800 in favor of the plaintiff.

In the case of Matt Anderson vs. the London and Lancashire Fire Insurance company the court, on motion, instructed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant on the ground of no cause of action having been made.

The jury in the case of George J. Mallory vs. City of Duluth, after deliberating for over twenty-four hours, came into court this morning and reported that they were unable to agree. They were discharged.

The case of the Village of West Duluth vs. the Duluth Street Railway company came up before Judge Moeck. The city wants to recover certain money expended in repairs along the railway company's tracks. The street railway company claims the ordinance which it had from the village is not binding and that the line was built under a special act of the legislature of 1881. The most of the time this morning was taken up in arguing for a judgment on the pleadings.

The setting of cases for the remainder of the week has been arranged as follows: Thursday, legal holiday. Friday, 233, 26, 27, 32, 55, 57, 58, 59, 79, 149.

In John Timlin vs. John F. Baars, Jr., answer withdrawn, judgment to be entered as per stipulation.

PERSONAL.

K. D. Chase, of Fairbault, is in the city. Adam Bede came down from Tower yesterday for the first time since his appointment and gracefully and wittily responded to all congratulations.

Frank Jarboe, of Brainerd, is in the city.

Al Rosenbush, of Chicago, arrived in the city this morning.

O. W. Getchell, of Minneapolis, was among this morning's arrivals in the city.

George Hall, for ten years traveling salesman for the Ryan Drug company, St. Paul, has made an engagement with the Sagar Drug company, of this city, and will hereafter represent them on the road. Mr. Hall is one of the oldest and best-known drug travelers in the Northwest, and will prove a valuable addition to the list of desirable workers for Duluth.

Want a New Chief.
A petition was being circulated on the board of trade and other places today asking the new city administration to send outside the city and secure a fireman of experience and known ability and place him at the head of the department.

In this connection it may not be out of place to state that Mayor-elect Lewis will probably name President J. L. Grestinger, of the Iron Range road, as one of the fire commissioners, and the other will probably be an insurance man. President Grestinger is an old fireman and a level-headed man and this has led Capt. Lewis to look with favor upon him. It is said that he will accept.

Pennsylvania Election.
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 20.—Pennsylvania is today voting for a congressional term-at-large to serve the unexpired term in the present congress of Gen. William Lilly (Rep.), who died Dec. 1, 1893. The candidates are: Republican, Galusha A. Grow; Democrat, James Denton Hancock; Pennsylvania Democracy, Arthur Markley; Peoples, Victor A. Lapiere; Prohibition, Henry F. Morrow. An unusually light vote is being cast.

Ocean Steamships.
New York—Arrived: Weser, Palermo. Queenstown—The Paris will immediately go to Liverpool to be repaired.

New York—Arrived: La Bretagne, Havre. New York—Arrived: Augusta Victoria, Hamburg.

Gibraltar—Arrived: Kaiser Wilhelm II, New York, and proceeded for Genoa. New York—Arrived: Schildam, Amsterdam.

Money is Not So Plentiful

In these piping times of peace that people care to waste it. When one reflects how many hours of labor; how many sacrifices and denials are enclosed within the disc of that shining bit of precious metal we call a "dollar" what wonder people hesitate to part with it except for value received.

Something New FOR READERS OF.....

A Great and Artistic Offer.

THE MARIE BURROUGHS ART PORTFOLIO OF STAGE CELEBRITIES

IS A MAGNIFICENT COLLECTION of 240 Photographs of the most popular Actors, Actresses, Singers and Musicians of modern times. The photographs are executed in the highest style of the art, and each one is accompanied by an interesting sketch of the professional career of the artist. It is the only complete collection ever offered of the portraits of the leading STAGE CELEBRITIES. It represents the results of immense labor spent in industrious collection of photographs and data necessary to completely present the most noted personages of the stage, besides a large outlay of money. It is an easy matter to collect a lot of poorly printed out-of-date photographs of prominent stage people, although even a partial collection of such pictures costs a good deal of money. But to get a complete Portfolio of them, all the latest and best, is quite another matter, and to accompany it with an account of the professional career of each, not only requires hard work, but would be impossible except to one having a practical and intimate acquaintance with the stage and its people. In the majority of cases, the great artists shown in this collection have given

Specialittings for This Work, which, therefore, includes many photographs that are not to be obtained elsewhere. Others have personally supplied favorite photographs which are not on public sale, and in fact the collection is incomparable as to quality, and Every Photograph a Gem.

In the series are included all the great lights of tragedy, comedy, grand opera, melodrama, comic opera, burlesque, and farce; all the favorites in all branches of dramatic and lyric art, in fact all the

Great Actors, Actresses and Singers

of the world, who have been seen during recent years on the American stage. There are no people whose personality is more interesting than those who are the central figures of the successful stage productions of the day. In this Portfolio the selection has been made on a broad and comprehensive basis, to secure a complete representation of the modern stage, and the selection has been completed under the supervision of herself one of the most prominent and popular actresses of the day. Miss Burroughs, both professionally and personally, holds a high position in the favor of American playgoers, and by her genius and ability has, within a few years, advanced to a place among the highest and most honored of those now recognized as reigning queens in the realm of dramatic art. In conjunction with the famous actor,

Miss Marie Burroughs,

E. S. WILLARD,

she has been a leading character in some of the most artistic and successful productions in the recent history of the American stage, while in her private life, she is a lady of culture, refinement, and the best social position.

With the first part of the Portfolio is presented, in addition to 20 others, a beautiful and elegantly

PART ONE WILL CONTAIN ★

How To GET THEM

By special arrangement with the publishers, this elegant work can be obtained in Duluth only through The Evening Herald. In every issue of this paper, COMMENCING MONDAY, there will be a dated coupon. Three coupons of different dates, together with 10 cents presented at the Counting Room of the Evening Herald, will secure one of the parts of the series. If ordered by mail 2 cents extra (making 12 cents in all) must be sent to cover postage. The coupons need not be consecutive, but must be of different dates. All communications by mail should be accompanied by a plainly written address to which the Portfolio is to be forwarded, and should state the number of the part desired.

Save Your Coupons.

Part I
Will be Ready in a Few Days

Tinted Photograph of Miss Burroughs.

Not only is the collection complete, but the greatest care has been taken to procure the best and latest photograph of each subject, so as to secure the most artistic results. The Portfolio will be ISSUED IN TWELVE PARTS, each part CONTAINING TWENTY PHOTOGRAPHS with the sketches belonging to them. IT IS A COMPLETE MIRROR OF THE MODERN STAGE and the series constitutes practically a Biographical Directory of Stage Celebrities. Many of the photographs in this collection it would be impossible to obtain elsewhere at any price; and even where obtainable, any one of them would cost as many dollars as the number of cents for which they are offered to the readers of THE EVENING HERALD. We offer them at TEN CENTS for each part, containing twenty photographs, when accompanied by coupons; in other words we offer these elegant photographs at HALF A CENT A PIECE.

The collection will be worthy a place in the most elegant home, and will be an acquisition to any person who takes any interest in the stage and its stars, not only for personal pleasure and edification, but also to give pleasure to friends. This Portfolio will be found in the highest degree worth not only the small outlay asked, but worth any price within reason.

MADE A CLEAN SWEEP.

Galusha A. Grow, the Republican Candidate, Elected Congressman-at-Large From Pennsylvania by 165,000 Plurality.

Many Counties That Formerly Went Heavily Democratic Carried by the Republicans by Good Majorities.

Philadelphia County Gives Grow Nearly Sixty Thousand Plurality and Allegheny County Gives Thirty Thousand.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.--Later country reports received today confirm the figures at night that Grow (Rep.) for congress, man-at-large, has a plurality of 55,000, and the indications are that the vote will increase the plurality to at least 165,000. This is the largest plurality ever given by the state for a candidate. The Democrats were completely routed.

Berks county, which has been the banner Democratic county with majorities ranging from 7,500 to 10,000, gives Hancock (Dem.), only 2,500. York county, another solid Democratic stronghold, which could always be relied upon for a majority of 3,000 to 4,000 for the Democratic candidate, entirely slipped her moorings yesterday and shows a plurality of 300 for Grow.

The three principal anthracite coal counties--Luzerne, Lackawanna and Schuylkill--all slip over to the Republican column. Among the other counties which drop from the Democratic column are Northumberland, Center, Cambria and Fayette, with several close counties to hear from, complete figures from which will probably place them in the Republican column. These are Adams, Bucks, Clearfield and Clinton. Philadelphia county gives Grow $8,400 plurality and Allegheny county (in which Pittsburgh is located) comes in with 30,000. For city council in Philadelphia, the Republican candidates made almost a clean sweep.

Very Close Vote.
McKeesport, Pa., Feb. 21.--The excitement over the four-cornered majority contest was intense last night and the vote was so close that no candidate was considered safe until the last returns were received at 3 o'clock. The result is as follows: Andre, (Rep.) 69; Stratton, (Dem.) 93; Thompson, (Ind.) 93; Reed, (Cons.) 78.

COURT HOUSE AT TOWER BURNED.
The Building Was Totally Destroyed--Due to a Defective Fuse.

TOWER, Minn., Feb. 21.--[Special to The Herald]--The court house at this place burned down about 3 o'clock this morning. It was a combination fire engine house and jail down stairs and court room upstairs. It is thought the fire originated from a defective fuse. The prisoner, Marko Matekovic, held for the murder of Mat Viteoda, was in the jail, but was gotten out safely and was taken to Duluth by a deputy sheriff this morning.

The building was one of the best in town and is a total loss. The fire engines were saved.

AGAINST FREE COAL AND IRON.
Coal Miners of Kentucky and Tennessee Protest Strongly.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 21.--A convention of the coal miners of Kentucky and Tennessee was held in this city yesterday. There was represented sixty mines, which have an annual output of 3,000,000 tons and employ 100,000 hands, upon whom 45,000 people depend for support.

The convention passed resolutions asking that coal be not placed upon the free list and praying the Tennessee and Kentucky senators to use their influence against the passage of the free coal and iron clauses of the Wilson bill.

Disastrous Fire.

QUINCY, Ill., Feb. 21.--A disastrous fire occurred in the business portion of this city early this morning. Before the flames could be gotten under control the total damage had reached over $175,000. Among the buildings and contents destroyed are Sommer & Lynn's wholesale drug house, loss, $50,000; Reliable Incubator works, loss, $22,000; Sinnock & Nichols, merchant, loss, $67,000; Schott Seddley company, loss, $5,000; Hoffman Printing company, loss, $1,000; Respal Grocery company, loss, $15,000.

Congressman Wilson's Condition.
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 21.--A special to the Globe-Democrat from Aguas Calientes, Mexico, says Congressman Wilson and Tarsney have arrived from El Paso. Chairman Wilson is far from well as yet and was feeling so badly that the party decided to stop over here for two or three days to give Mr. Wilson the benefit of hot baths.

Coal Miners May Strike.

BRAZIL, Ind., Feb. 21.--The Block coal operators of this district held a large meeting here yesterday. The question of the wage scale for the next year beginning May 1 was discussed in secret. It is understood by those in a position to know that the wages of the miners will be cut 25 or 30 cents a ton and that the employees will strike.

Sailed From Rio.

LONDON, Feb. 21.--A dispatch from Montevideo, via Lisbon, says that all the vessels of the fleet of the Brazilian government, with the exception of the dynamite cruiser Niteroy, have joined the squadron of the insurgents and sailed away from the harbor of Rio.

Steel Muckage Improved.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.--The condition of Steele Muckage, the dramatist, is considerably improved this morning. He rested better last night than he has for a week.

WILL RESIST A REDUCTION.
Ohio Coal Miners Will Refuse Lower Wages.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.--A dispatch from Salineville, Ohio, says: The miners of this district have decided to resist the 20 per cent reduction in wages and to hold out for the old scale. Only a small number of the men here belong to the Union and hence do not feel bound to abide the Columbus agreement. The mines were all idle yesterday.

The Big Vein Coal company of Salineville notified the miners of a reduction of 20 per cent. The men met and refused to accept the reduction. About 400 are out and fifty of them are union men.

A dispatch from Cleveland says: About 1500 miners went to work in the Eastern Ohio district yesterday. The district includes the county of Belmont alone. The Wheeling Creek mines and all those along the Cleveland, Loraine & Wheeling railroad went to work under the terms agreed upon at the joint conference held in Columbus a few days ago. Meetings were held by committees of the miners at the various mines and the operators yesterday decided upon the rates to be paid for day labor.

Under the reduction in the mining rate, the price for common labor about the mines would be about $1.45, but the contractors of most of the mines agreed upon $1.45. The mines along the Baltimore & Ohio, as far west as Quincy, went to work yesterday and the Cleveland mines above Martin's Ferry also resumed. The mines along the Wheeling & Lake Erie in Jefferson county are still idle, but it is thought they will get matters fixed up and resume about Monday.

TROUBLE AT BESSEMER.

Poles and Italians Demand More Donations to the Poor.

BESSEMER, Mich., Feb. 21.--Yesterday a large number of Poles and Italians marched through the streets of this town demanding that the county agents be more liberal in their donations to the poor. They entered several saloons and ordered that drinks be served to them free. Twenty of the women entered John Kinney's saloon, and in order to get rid of them he gave each $1.

The reporter who sent out the sensational reports from here Saturday night was attacked by a mob of Italians and Poles as he was about take the train for Ironwood. He received a bullet in the leg and was otherwise injured. The sheriff is being severely criticised for deserting the field during the hostilities.

LUMBER COMPANIES SUED.
Three Actions Begun by the State to Recover Large Amounts.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 21.--As a result of the investigation by the legislative pine land committee, two complaints, signed by Attorney General Childs, were filed last evening against an Illinois corporation known as the Lumber Company, and will result in an aggregate of $74,500. One of these suits is for $64,000, and the other for $10,000. The complaints are filed in the district court here.

The suits are for the recovery of the timber cut from two sections in Case county. The charge in this case is crooked estimating.

DR. BUSHROD TAYLOR GONE.

Death of a Distinguished Physician, Recently of Cincinnati.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.--Dr. Bushrod Taylor, recently of Cincinnati, died on Sunday morning last suddenly of rheumatism of the heart, at The Meadows, Culpeper, Va., the home of his daughter, Mrs. Angus McDonald Green.

Dr. Taylor some time ago gave up his practice in Cincinnati and came to reside with his widowed daughter. He was a distinguished graduate of the College of Medicine at Winchester, Va., of the same class with Dr. Hunter McGuire of Richmond, Va., and afterwards served up to the surrender at Appomattox as surgeon of Jackson's Stonewall brigade.

Dr. Taylor resided in Cincinnati, where he resided his uncle, Griffin Taylor, of Clinton, the father of Mrs. Arnone and others, with whom he closely connected.

STILL HAS HIS HEAD.

The Report That Mr. Pung Was Beheaded Is Denied.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.--The rumor prevalent that Mr. Pung, the former secretary of the Chinese legation here, had been beheaded since returning to the Celestial Kingdom, and, in consequence, had lost his head, was without foundation. Mr. Pung still lives.

This statement is made on the authority of Heber J. May, counsel of the legation in Washington, who investigated the report and found it to be absolutely groundless. Mr. Pung is a talented Chinaman and so far as can be learned still enjoys the favor of his government.

Only a Personal Visit.

LONDON, Feb. 21.--The Berlin correspondent of the Daily News says that not a single one of the Berlin papers yesterday had anything to say editorially in regard to the emperor's visit to the Celestial Kingdom.

The Prince Bismarck at Friedrichsruhe. The papers contain only brief details of the reception of his majesty. This is taken to indicate that the visit was regarded by the emperor as simply a personal one.

A Dastardly Act.

FOSTORIA, Ohio, Feb. 21.--An attempt was made to wreck the Nickel Plate eastbound fast train No. 6 half a mile west of McComb last night by piling ties on the track. The obstructions were found and removed by a farmer named Lynn, who was walking along the track to his home. He then went to McComb and reported to the agent. Had the obstructions not been found a serious wreck would surely have resulted. This is the second attempt at train wrecking on this road within a few weeks. There is no clue.

CORNELL'S SENSATION.

A Woman Lying Dead and Several Students Dying as a Result of the Freshmen's Banquet.

The Sophomores Had Their "Fun" as They Call it, and a Free Fight Took Place.

Poisonous Gas Was Turned Into the Kitchen and Banquet Hall by Some Villainous Wretch.

ITHACA, N. Y., Feb. 21.--Last night the Cornell freshmen held their banquet which they had a perfect right to do, and the sophomores had their "fun" as they call it, with the result that Mrs. Jackson (colored), now lies in Cummings' morgue and several students are not expected to live. The particulars of last night's "mere boys' fun," as it is called, as near as can be learned, are as follows:

The banquet was spread in the large hall formerly occupied by the Masonic fraternity. At 9 o'clock the freshmen went to meet on the hill and march down to the banquet hall. Toga street was well filled with students long before 9 o'clock, all waiting for the coming freshmen, ready to pounce upon them and use every effort, legitimate or otherwise, to spoil the freshmen's evening. The whole Ithaca police force was stationed near by ready to quell any serious trouble.

About 10 o'clock the freshmen reached the Toga street. Then a rush ensued, called a rush probably in order to give it a good character, but in reality it was nothing more or less than a free fight. The freshmen surged toward the door leading up into the hall and were attacked from all sides. Faces were punched, hats smashed, and a general melee, in which the officers were tossed about like chaff. The rush was only ended when the last freshman was safely in the hall. Then order was restored, except that perhaps some luckless freshman, who was late, fell into the hands of the sophomores. Things went along quite smoothly until about 11 o'clock, when a sensation was sprung upon the people outside the hall.

First appeared a colored woman, led by two men. She was almost white, so bad was her condition. She was taken over to Dr. Lockery's and means taken to resuscitate her. But all means proved of no avail and a few moments after 11 o'clock she died. Soon after this was led out of the building a number of students were carried out, some being taken to Grant's drug store and some to Casey's restaurant. The efforts to revive them proved more successful and they were revived sufficiently to be taken to their respective boarding places and will be put under the care of physicians.

The police officers were in the meantime conducting a vigorous investigation as to the cause of the trouble. The victims were poisoned by some kind of gas and to find out how this was spread in the kitchen and banquet hall and not to take very long. The smell of some gas was very noticeable all through the building and room after room was broken into to find the cause. Finally in a room directly under the kitchen of the banquet hall was the mystery solved.

Some one had entered the room and bored two holes in the ceiling above. On a table stood a large jug, corked, but in the cork were two rubber tubes which ran nearly up to the ceiling where they were connected with two glass tubes which ran through the holes in the floor, thus spreading in the room above the gas generated from the jug, which was found to be chlorine, a mixture of salt and sulphuric acid. There was, however, no clue to the party who had been guilty of this dastardly piece of business.

At 11 o'clock this morning the hasty summons for a doctor. Two rise to a rumor that Thomas McNeil, a student, was dead, but investigation showed this to be false. McNeil, however, is very ill from the effects of the poisonous gas, but the chances for his recovery are good. The same is true in respect to W. F. McCulloch, of Gilbertsville, N. Y. Mr. McCulloch's injury was improved this morning after viewing the body of the dead colored woman, adjourned until tomorrow. The police are still investigating, with the chances of finding the culprit good. A large number of students are leaving town.

De Young Apologized.
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.--At a meeting of the board of managers of the San Francisco Press club last evening, M. H. De Young made an apology for the appearance in his paper an article reflecting upon the newspaper men of this city.

Wallace Dingman Dead.

BLAND'S SEIGNIORAGE BILL.
Will the President Veto It if It Passes Congress?

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.--Will President Cleveland veto the Bland seigniorage bill, if it passes both houses of congress? This question is constantly asked by members of the house who occupy different positions regarding the bill. The friends of the measure say the president will sign it.

It is argued that the bill as amended has the quasi approval of Secretary Carlisle; that the Kentucky members are giving it their support, because of that fact, and that President Cleveland cannot be otherwise than friendly to the measure when the position of his secretary of the treasury regarding it is remembered.

On the other hand, those who assume to speak for the president say that he is strongly opposed to any financial legislation at the present time, and they point to the president's utterances in his recent message to congress to corroborate that statement. The president's reference to the repeal of the Sherman purchasing act contained two declarations: First, "I do not doubt that the ultimate result of this action will be most salutary and far reaching," and again, "in the pursuit of this object we should resolutely turn away from alluring and temporary expedients, determined to be content with nothing less than a lasting and comprehensive financial plan. In these circumstances, I am convinced that a reasonable delay in dealing with this subject instead of being injurious will increase the probability of wise action."

One of the anti-silver men, who made a careful poll of the house yesterday, estimates that seventy Democrats will vote against the bill. He divides these as follows: New York 20, New Jersey 6, Connecticut 3, Wisconsin 6, Pennsylvania 7, Ohio 3, Illinois 3, Missouri 1, Massachusetts 3, Rhode Island 2, Delaware 1, Maryland 4, Louisiana 2, Iowa 11, Minnesota 1 and 7 scattering. The Populists in the house will support the bill and so will a few Republicans from the West and Northwest.

The opponents of the bill believe that if a full house is present when a vote is taken it will be beaten by a majority of five. It is also asserted that if as many as seventy Democrats oppose the bill the moral effect will not be lost upon the president, who will feel more justified in vetoing it because of the opposition within the party lines.

HAVE FARED VERY BADLY.

Duluth and Superior Given Only $75,000 For Harbor Improvements.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.--[Special to The Herald]--In spite of the efforts of Representatives Haugen and Baldwin, Duluth and Superior have fared badly in the river and harbor bill. The government engineers recommended an appropriation of $278,000 for the improvement of these two harbors, and the committee has allowed but $75,000 for this purpose, only $40,000 for Duluth and $35,000 for Superior.

Messrs. Haugen and Baldwin held a conference about the matter today and intend to go before the river and harbor committee and demand that the amount estimated by the engineers be allowed. Mr. Haugen says that $75,000 for this purpose would be money thrown away and threatens to vote against the bill when it comes to the house, if a larger sum is not given. Both Haugen and Baldwin are hustling today to secure the change.

BUSINESS MEN PROTEST.

They Oppose the Duluth-Superior Bridge Company's Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.--[Special to The Herald]--Representative Haugen has received many protests from Superior business men against the Duluth-Superior Bridge company's bill. He will file them. This is the bill that he favors.

The house commerce committee will, on Friday, take the bridge fight up and endeavor to settle it.

NOT EVEN MENTIONED.

Railroads Not Considering Educational Association Rates.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.--[Special to The Herald]--The matter of rates to Duluth for the National Educational association was not mentioned at yesterday's meeting of the Western Passenger association, and there seems to be no likelihood of their being discussed today.

BALDWIN FIGHTING DORAN.

He Protests Against the Appointment of Breuner at St. Cloud.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.--[Special to The Herald]--Representative Baldwin is determined that Breuner, Doran's candidate for register of the St. Cloud land office, shall not be appointed. Today he filed a protest with the president against the selection of Breuner.

A REMARKABLE WOMAN.

Death of Anna Ella Carroll, Whose Fame as a Patriot Has Been Firmly Established.

She Was the Author of the Plan That "Broke the Backbone of the Rebellion."

Congress Never Granted Remuneration to Miss Carroll for the Valuable Services Rendered by Her.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—One of the most remarkable women in American history, whose fame as a patriot is established in the records of congress, in the executive departments of the government and in the political literature of the country and discussions of questions of state, has just died at the residence of her sister in this city, Anna Ella Carroll, of Maryland, died on Monday, the 20th year of her age. She was the author of the plan "which broke the backbone of the rebellion."

The character, magnitude and value of Miss Carroll's services to the United States and the people of this country are well and fairly described in the report from the committee on military affairs submitted to the house of representatives a few years ago by Gen. Edward S. Bragg, of Wisconsin. The committee's report was the unanimous expression of the members of that body. But notwithstanding this favorable report, congress has never granted remuneration to Miss Carroll for the valuable services rendered by her.

President Lincoln remarked to Hon. William Mitchell, a member of congress, that "this Anna Ella Carroll is the head of the Carroll race. When the history of this war is written she will stand a good bit taller than ever old Charles did."

Miss Carroll was a descendant of the famous Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, Maryland, who remained loyal to the eastern shore of Maryland. Funeral services will be held today at Trinity church, near Cambridge, Dorchester county. The remains will be placed in the old graveyard beside those of her father, mother and other members of the Carroll family.

Western Baseball Association. Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 21.—The meeting of the Western Baseball Association here yesterday resulted in the adoption of a constitution and a determination to stick to the eight club plan as the association is at present constituted. The cities in the association were represented as follows: Omaha, Thomas McVenter; Lincoln, T. J. Hickey; St. Joseph, R. N. Ketchum; Des Moines, W. O. McCull; Jacksonville, W. W. Kent; Peoria, C. W. Brackett; Quincy, W. R. Merryfield; Rock Island, W. Oldwider.

Severe Cold in Wyoming. CHEYENNE, Wyo., Feb. 21.—A bitter cold wave struck this city Monday night and the mercury has ranged from 20 degrees below zero to 10 above. Reports from Buffalo and other points in the northern part of the state are to the effect that it is 25 below. In the sections of the state where the ground is covered with snow, cattle are suffering a great deal.

Fire at Lincoln. LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 21.—Fire last night in the Funk opera house building, the first floor of which is occupied by merchants, did $20,000 damage. The heaviest losers are Ackerman & Co., millinery, $10,000; Block & Kohn, dry goods, $15,000; W. R. Dennis, furnishing goods, $16,000, all well insured.

Church Destroyed. ROCKFORD, Ill., Feb. 21.—The Second Congregational church, the finest religious edifice in the city, was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. Loss, $75,000, insurance, $80,000. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

CHAMPIONS REDE'S CASE.

The New York Sun Is Doing Its Best for J. Adam.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—J. Adam Rede, who may be Minnesota's new marshal, has an able champion in the New York Sun. This paper does not believe Mr. Rede will be rejected by the senate. The Sun said yesterday: "Rede's opposition has not a leg to stand on. Minnesota has no more mystically beautiful young Democrat than Hon. J. Adam Rede, of the Zenith City, locally known as the man with the birchbark pants. It is true that he is a discovery and a surprise. He comes from the forest, so do his trousers."

Rede is by no means out of danger. No action has yet been taken looking to an early consideration of his nomination, and a flood of protests are coming in daily against his confirmation. These protests come from Democrats, and are being received by prominent Democratic senators.

Bids For Indian Supplies.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—Commissioner D. W. Browning of the Indian supply bureau at Washington arrived in Chicago yesterday to take charge of bids for the annual Indian supplies. The bidding for contracts took place in a large room on the west side which was crowded with stock dealers who had for the contract to serve the Sioux Indians with supplies for next year. Ninety bids were received. This is the first time that the government has received bids for Indian supplies in Chicago and the second time that bids for supplies contracted were received outside of Washington and New York.

A Rifle Tournament.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—The Military Rifle association, consisting of the adjutant general and other officers of the militia of Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and Minnesota, met at the Palmer house yesterday to arrange for a rifle tournament between the states. Four states were represented, Indiana, Wisconsin and Illinois. It was decided to hold a tournament beginning Sept. 1, provided at least three states participate. The tournament is to be held will be decided upon later.

The Song of the Cuckoo.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Senator Vilas was very glad that the president nominated Senator White for the supreme court justiceship. "It will do more to bring about a change in the government," than any other one thing. It will pacify all factions, will remove to a large extent the friction that has been created by the Democratic party is made up of independent individuals, but we will get together after a while."

Fire in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—Fire broke out in the story brick building, 337-339 Cottage Grove avenue, at 10:15 p.m. last night and practically destroyed the structure and contents. The building was owned and occupied by the Chicago Brick and Tile Co. The loss on the stock, which was almost completely burned or ruined, was estimated at $15,000. The damage to the building was fixed at $10,000. The insurance carried was stated to be $15,000.

Sustained by Salotti.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—A dispatch to a morning paper from St. Louis says that Father Phelan has received a letter from the archbishop of St. Louis, asking to be sustained in his course toward Bishop Kenrick in the controversy that prelate for alleged libel of Father Corbett. "The letter," said Phelan yesterday, "is a complete vindication of my course. He says that it is improper for him to publicly support me, but as long as he knows that I am all right, that is all I care for."

Sweeping Out in Wages.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—A dispatch to a morning paper from Chicago says: "The Big Four have been informed that there will be a sweeping reduction in the wages of the mechanics. In the shops in Urbana are employed about 400 men, and as the reduction is practically a 10 per cent cut, it is causing considerable dissatisfaction."

Arrested for Train Robbery.

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 21.—Chief of Police Erickson yesterday arrested John Younk and C. H. Craft and charged them as being the men who wrecked the Missouri, Kansas & Texas train a couple of weeks ago, and shooting the brakeman who went back to flag a following freight train. They are white men.

Struck by a Train.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—The rear carriage in a funeral procession yesterday was struck by a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train. The carriage contained five men, two of whom were instantly killed, and the horses were instantly killed.

A Burglar Escaped.

EMPORIA, Kan., Feb. 21.—Treadwell, a noted burglar, wanted in Chicago, Cincinnati, Kentucky and elsewhere, and serving a two years sentence here, sawed through three sets of bars in the jail Monday night and escaped.

Sunday Not Preferred.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The national woman's suffrage convention yesterday after a long discussion refused to adopt a resolution naming Sunday as a day for meetings of woman suffragists throughout the country.

Death of a Publisher.

VERY ODD DOCUMENT.

Letter of Minister Willis to Secretary Gresham Showing What Honolulu Papers Thought of Him.

The Editorials Relating to the Absence of Willis from the Celebration Are Very Caustic.

President Cleveland Referred to as He-Who-Must-Be Obedied and a Would-be Dictator.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Probably one of the oddest documents added to the diplomatic archives of the state department in recent years, is the letter of Minister Willis to Secretary Gresham of Jan. 19, enclosing extracts showing what the Honolulu papers thought of him and asking instructions in the premises. All the clippings refer to the birthday celebration of the provisional government on Jan. 17, which seems to have been an enthusiastic affair from very early in the morning until well along towards the next morning.

But the remarkable enclosures are the editorials from these papers, relating to the absence of Minister Willis from the celebration. The most conservative is entitled "A Good Word for Mr. Willis," and expresses the hope that the crisis having passed the citizens will be fair and just towards the minister, whose position is said to be not of his own creation, but of this country.

"If his temper has not been altogether lovely in making his answers to questions regarding his use of force in restoring the ex-queen, it must be remembered that he was instructed to perform a difficult job."

"Don't use force, but don't let them know you won't use it. A nobleman said to an artist who was about to paint his portrait, 'in painting my portrait, paint the man behind the man, but so that he cannot be seen.' Instructions are often difficult to execute."

Another editorial has the title, "A Cautious Apology," and referring to the general indignation manifested at the discourtesy of the diplomatic corps in remaining away from President Willis' reception, it says: "The Hawaiian people are at peace with the United States. The minister should have been here at the reception, but if the two countries were at war 'he should have barred his front gate, rolled himself up in the American flag and defiantly refused to be taken into the palace.'"

DECEDED BACK TO MCKINLEY.

All the Governor's Debts Paid by Private Subscription.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—A dispatch from Cleveland says: The property which Governor and Mrs. McKinley conveyed to trustees last summer, when the governor was forced to make an assignment by the failure of a Youngstown manufacturer, for whom he had indorsed notes, has been transferred back to them.

This result is due to the efforts of the trustees, H. H. Kohlman, of the Chicago Inter-Ocean, and Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland, and Judge William R. Day, of Canton. When they received the trust they decided, without consulting the governor, to raise the money with which to meet the governor's obligations. This has been fully done by private subscription.

The final papers have been filed in the probate court at Canton, the property deeded back to Governor and Mrs. McKinley and the trustees discharged.

A Victim of Whisky.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Feb. 21.—F. R. Menton was brought to St. Joseph's hospital here yesterday a victim of whisky and last week's blizzard. His feet were frozen and his legs were amputated near the knees. He says he is a Northern Wisconsin judge, and shows in his appearance and conversation that he is a man of education. He is 45 years old and refuses to give his exact residence because of the disgrace. He went on a spree near Marion, Ind., while the blizzard was raging and wandering into the country went to sleep in a barn.

Banker Thayer's Case.

SPRINGFIELD, Wis., Feb. 21.—Judge Siebeck of Madison opened an adjourned special term of the circuit court yesterday and was dealing with cases in the matter of the assignment of M. A. Thayer, banker. The title to certain real estate, including Thayer's bank building, will be tested at this term as will also certain claims of alleged preferred creditors. The criminal proceedings against Thayer do not come up until the regular April term of circuit court.

An Army Promotion.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The president yesterday filled the very desirable vacancy in the quartermaster's department of the army by sending to the senate the name of Lieut. Robert R. Stevens, Sixth infantry, to be captain and assistant quartermaster. Capt. Stevens was born in Texas, in 1845, and was appointed to this position after serving fourteen years and nine months in the army.

Judge McMillan Very Ill.

CRESTON, Ia., Feb. 21.—Judge J. W. McMillan, a member of the state supreme court, suffered a relapse yesterday and is now lying at his home in this city in a critical condition. He has been ill since the 15th inst. He is believed to be convalescing. He came from Washington to spend the Christmas holidays with his family and was struck with the grip. He attributed his condition to the malarial air of the national capital.

A Train Derailment.

LUDINGTON, Mich., Feb. 21.—The accommodation train from Manistee was wrecked yesterday at Ludington, a grade near Sperry's brick yard. A log rolled off the car next to the locomotive, fell across the track and derailed the train. The train consisted of a locomotive, two passenger cars, baggage car and two freight cars. None of the passengers were injured.

Texas Bankers in Trouble.

DALLAS, Tex., Feb. 21.—A. M. Britton, president of the state bank and commerce commission, suffered a relapse yesterday and is now lying at his home in this city in a critical condition. He has been ill since the 15th inst. He is believed to be convalescing. He came from Washington to spend the Christmas holidays with his family and was struck with the grip. He attributed his condition to the malarial air of the national capital.

The Third Lincing.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 21.—Information reached here last night of the lynching of Lewis Hendricks, the third negro supposed to have been hanged in the rape and murder of Mrs. Jessie Rucker, near Stanton last Thursday. Hendricks was run down in the swamp last evening by several negroes. The other two negroes involved were lynched last Friday night.

An Explosion and Fire.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—A horse kicked over a can of gasoline in Patrick Ryan's blacksmith shop on Adams street yesterday, causing an explosion and a fire and burning eight men, employees and customers. Frank Bauer, of 509 North Wood street, who probably started the fire, was knocked down by the explosion and burned.

Eight Hangers Indicted.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., Feb. 21.—The Otoe county grand jury finished yesterday the investigation of the hanging of eight negroes by the mob. Indictments were returned against S. T. White and Henry W. Hoarath. No other persons were involved in the unlawful act.

Lightweights to Fight.

THE CLASS B SCHEME.

Bicyclist William F. Murphy Declares in Favor of the League of American Wheelmen Professionals.

Believes That the L. A. W. Should Make Class B an Out and Out Professional Class.

Mr. Murphy Would Then Put All the Actual Simon Pure Amateurs in Class A.

Public clamor seems to have at last driven the League of American Wheelmen to compromise with professionalism. This great organization, which has long governed amateur bicyclists, has finally decided through its racing board that professional status does exist in the ranks of its alleged amateurs, and that hereafter the wheelman who rides for a manufacturer on salary and sells secretly the prize he wins should be allowed to openly violate his amateur status. The racing board will ask the delegates at the annual meeting of the L. A. W., soon to be held in Louisville, to sanction the division of amateur bicyclists into two classes, A and B. The riders in the A class must be pure amateurs, must not receive money for riding, sell their prizes or have their expenses paid by an athletic or cycling club and may only compete for trophies valued at $50 or less.

This class is practically the amateur class of today as it is supposed to exist, except that the value of prizes is unlimited. It is "supposed" because every wheelman in the country and every official in the L. A. W. knows upon information and belief, as the lawyers say, that the amateur class of today is densely populated with bicyclists who are paid for riding certain wheels, and who sell most of the prizes they win, but believing a thing and proving it are very different matters. Is a certain prominent amateur riding one particular make of wheel for his health solely? Not during the recent financial stringency. Are Dick, Windle, Cochran, Leeming and Stackpole training their champions just to see the wheels go round? Not unless the wheels are "out wheels" and "variably inadvisable." Did record breakers and their small army of pacemakers and trainers continue going against time until the snowflakes were ripe for glory only, and are they eating those same snowflakes this winter? Not while carousals and champagne may be procured in exchange for coin of the realm.

In short, most of our prominent wheelmen on the track today could be expected for professionalism if the prizes they have sold and the salary they have received for a time that manufacturer's wheelman, like Bonaparte, host and accuse them. The L. A. W. officials are as certain of this as any one, but they cannot prove it, and they would undoubtedly dislike to do so. The reason for the reason that such famous names as Zimmerman, Windle, Johnson, Tyler, Sanger and a number of others are on the cards at league meetings and fill the columns of the L. A. W. with the much desired but very necessary cash. A few years ago Will Windle was charged with having received $100 from a prominent manufacturer and was suspended. He admitted his guilt and was reinstated because he was honest, so it was said at the time. The fact that Windle was then the most prominent wheelman on the track and the league's best drawing card of course had nothing to do with his reinstatement.

All last season the trait of professionalism was so prominent in the amateur ranks and there was such a howl about it that the racing board felt that something must be done to place every rider under his true colors. Even the mighty Zimmerman did not escape, and the National Cyclists' union of Great Britain refused him a license to ride on the track that he had been to pedal a certain wheel by its manufacturer. Expelling such men as Zimmerman was out of the question on this side, and the racing board are attempting to silence public clamor and solve the difficult problem before them by the class A and class B scheme.

This plan, which will undoubtedly be adopted at Louisville, is good so far as it goes, but it should go further. The racing board should not compromise with professionalism, but should make a strictly professional class of riders. The class B amateur, according to the proposed new rules, may receive a salary and expenses for riding a particular wheel. He may compete for a prize of any value, but not for cash. He is barred from competing with professionals and from selling his prizes, but a proposed amendment to class B provides that no inquiry shall be made concerning a wheelman's disposition of his prizes after six months have elapsed.

Inasmuch as many riders will sell their prizes, whether the rule allows them to do so or not, it seems to me that it would be wiser for the racing board to allow a bicyclist of class B to sell them whenever he desired to. He should also be allowed to compete for cash and to become an out and out professional. All events would then be done away with, and every man would ride under his true colors.

Class A, in my opinion, should be composed of strict amateurs, and must not receive money for riding, sell their prizes or have their expenses paid by an athletic or cycling club and may only compete for trophies valued at $50 or less.

CAN SUCH THINGS BE?

A Mother Crushed to Death in a Struggle For Bread in the Year 1894.

Mrs. Anna Lindgren passed from destitution to death last night. Except for the suffering that preceded her end, no one can say it was not the happiest thing that could have happened her.

While striving to get food for her sick husband and starving children she was fatally injured yesterday by a hungry mob in the county agent's office. A few hours later she died in her cheerless home. Mrs. Lindgren and her husband had never before appealed for aid at the county agent's office. The husband was sick and the woman weak. They had reached the last stages of destitution and went together to the agent's office.

The weakest had to go to the wall, and the weakest chance to go to the wall, and Mrs. Lindgren took a place. As the crowd at the office increased the pushing and fighting became worse, and soon there was a terrible crush. The mass in front of Mrs. Lindgren surged back to save themselves from suffocation. The waiting ones behind pressed forward, made reckless by empty stomachs. The woman was caught between the two waves of humanity. Men and women were fighting and pushing one another. They had lost all sense save that of their own hunger.

The officers made an examination of the two small rooms in which the family lived, and they found not even a crust of bread. The wagon was returned to the county agent's office, and a supply of meat, bread, provisions, etc., and a load of coal were sent out. So Mrs. Lindgren won bread for her children, after all. While they were devouring the food the county undertaker drove up and left a pine coffin.

County Agent Hoppel said that the accident was due wholly to lack of room to receive the crowds at his office. "We have from 1,200 to 1,500 people every day," he said. "We have no room for not allowing them all to crowd into the office at once, and we throw open the doors with this result."

The crowd in front of the county agent's office today blockaded the street, walk and extended half way to the middle of the street. Gaunt famine showed on the pinched features of every one, and ragged clothing gave but scant promise to the clean, white faces. Women made up more than three-fourths of the struggling mass.

But only as many as the clerks inside could take care of were let in at one time today. Six policemen could control the hungry outside.—Chicago Special in New York World.

GETTING IT ON.

A Story of a Married Man and a Mustard Plaster.

He came home with a pain in his back. He was suffering terribly. Pains were making his spinal column of a nature far more severe than had ever been suffered by mortal man before. He admitted it himself.

"Make me a mustard plaster, Mary, and make it good and strong," he wailed as he threw himself upon the sofa. In a few minutes the patient little wife came in with a plaster about the size of an ordinary sheepskin saddle—good and thick too. He took it into his sleeping room and said he'd put it on himself.

"Why, dear, you can't put it on your back yourself. Let me fix it for you." And she started to follow him in.

"Never you mind, now. I'll attend to this," he growled. "You go on with your work and see to it that I am not bothered. This pain is killing me by inches." And he shut the door.

Well, he undressed, picked up the plaster from the dresser and tried to get it on—and there was a circus that came near to equaling "the greatest show on earth." He tried to reach back with his hand and lay it on his back, but only succeeded in getting it on his side, while a pint or so of the mustard trickled onto the floor and down into his clothes. It didn't feel good, and he got mad. He pulled it off and tried it with the other hand, but got the same result. Then he pinned it on the wall and tried to back up against it and ran three paces into his hide. As a last resort, he spread the plaster on the floor and then lay down and tried to press it on, but miscalculated the distance and got his head into it. As he raised up, with his hair looking like a glue pot, he on the whole greatly resembled a Zulu dressed for a ball.

His "talk" during the performance had been getting more and more emphatic, and at last brought his wife in. She prevailed upon him to allow her to arrange the plaster, and after wiping him off she was told to not take it off his back, no matter how much he yelled and screamed. For he was determined that he would kill that pain. She promised, and by his instructions locked the door upon him. He was alone with the plaster.

For a half hour she heard nothing excepting the rattling of the bed springs as he tossed about. Then she heard him walking the floor; then mutterings and grumblings, with an occasional stamp on the floor; then a short and decisive yelp. She said: "Yes, that will help him if he leaves it on. I'll let it stay as he wanted me to, so he won't be grunting around with his back for a week. I have experience like that with him"—a prolonged howl interrupted her, and she heard the crash of falling china.

"Mary, unlock that door and come in here and take this lava bed off of me. I'm no hog. I know when I've got enough." She was just going over to a neighbor's to get a better to chisel and thought she'd wait till she got back.

As she stepped into the house 10 minutes later blows of heavy boots were threatening to break in the door, while howls and screeches and roars came from within that room. "Open that door, or I'll break it to the ruin. He put on his clothes, and as he stamped out the door stopped to hiss between his teeth, "You'll pay dearly for this, madam; mark my words," and he was gone.

That night he came in about 8 o'clock with his arms filled with fruit and confections. "That plaster stopped the pain, dear," was all he said.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

"Getting on His Feet."

An Effortful Dialogue.
"That girl was decent enough to black the stove before going, I see."
"No, I blacked them myself, and it's lucky I did."
"Lucky?"
"Yes, indeed. Mrs. de Fashion and Mrs. de Style called right in the midst of it, and so just put a little more blacking on my face and went to the door and told them I wasn't in. They said they would call again."—Wash.

New York's Government.

The Kansas City Star says: "By the combined efforts of Tammany, the Republican machine and the gifted and oracular Dewey New York is perhaps the worst governed city in America." This is a very broad assertion and The Herald does not believe it can be sustained.Tammany and the Republican machine may not be very pure in a political sense, and they may manipulate election returns or pad the registration lists.Tammany also takes good care of its friends and fills the city offices with them, with large, fat salaries attached,
at the same time making regular assessments on them to keep up the tiger's organization.Yet notwithstanding these things, admitting even that the police authorities wink at violations of the liquor laws and some of the officers levy assessments upon dens of bad repute, it is hardly correct to say that New York is the worst governed city in America. Allowing that many of the charges against the city administration are true, there are numerous palliating circumstances. There is no city of its size in the world where life and property are as safe. There is no part of New York where a stranger cannot visit at any hour of the day or night and feel that he is safe from assault or robbery.
Can the same be said of Chicago, or even cultured Boston? New York is a better lighted city than any other large city in America. It is far ahead of Chicago in this respect. Indeed, Duluth can give Chicago points in regard to street lighting. New York has a fire department that is superb in its organization and in efficiency. Despite the annual howling about the condition of its streets, they are as a rule kept very clean. It is not true that taxation in New York city is excessive. There are many smaller cities where the rate of taxation is much greater—Kansas City, for instance.All these favorable aspects of life in Gotham may exist in spite of Tammany's control of the city administration, but it is not likely such is the case.
To Tammany must be given the credit.
Even the devil, it is said, is entitled to his due. Tammany is not so black as it is sometimes painted.

Statistics of Mortgages.

The census office has issued a summary of the statistics of mortgages for thirty-three states and territories, which cover nearly seven-ninths of the mortgages made in the United States during the decade 1880-89, and about five-sixths
of the mortgage debt of the entire country. The real estate mortgages made in the states and territories enumerated and mentioning the amount of debt secured numbered 6,947,113, and represented an incurred debt of $9,456,169,281, of which $5,936,625 was incurred in 1880 and $1,381,684,380 in 1889.The number of mortgages made in 1889 gained 90.49 per cent on those in 1880, and the amount of debt increased 156.04 per cent, while during the ten years preceding June 1, 1890, the population increased 25.75 per cent. Of the total amount of mortgage debt incurred during the ten years $3,573,582,435, or 37.74 per cent, was placed on acre tracts and $5,895,584,646, or 62.26 per cent, was placed on city and town property.The increase in the number of mortgages in 1889 over 1880 was 43.25 per cent, while the increase in number of lots was 21.12 per cent.These figures show that the mortgages upon city property increased in very much larger proportion than did those upon farming lands. It is safe to say that much of the latter was due to purchases of additional land by farmers who were anxious to extend their holdings.The existing mortgage debt for the thirty-three states and territories covered at the date of the report was estimated at $4,035,455,896, of which $1,686,272,279, or 34.17 per cent, was on acres and $2,349,183,617 was on lots. The total mortgage debt for the United States on Jan.
1, 1890, is estimated at about $6,000,000,
one-sixth of that amount being an estimate for states not tabulated. Mort-gages, it appears, have an average life of 4.814 years, those on acres having an average life of 4.610 years and those on lots of 4.928 years.For twenty-one of the thirty-three states and territories the average rate of interest on the existing mortgage debt at the date of the report was 6.73 per cent, on acres 7.27 per cent, and on lots 6.32 per cent. From 1880 to 1889 the rate on the incurred debt declined from 6.75 per cent to 6.52 per cent, for all mortgages.The census office bulletin, from which the above statistics are taken, states that a special investigation covering 120 counties distributed throughout the Union was made as to the reasons why the indebtedness had been incurred. As a result it was found that $2,566 per cent of the original amount of the debt was incurred to secure the purchase of real estate and to make improvements when not associated with other objects, and that 94.37 per cent of the debt was incurred for purchase money, improvements, business, and the purchase of the more durable kinds of personal property.In Germany they manage the wifebeaters with an artless severity that seems much more sensible and practicable than the Delaware whipping-post theory. When a man is convicted of beating his wife he is allowed to continue his work, is looked after by the police and arrested every Saturday and locked up until Monday morning, when he is again delivered over to his employer.His wages are given to his wife. If he won't work he is taken to jail, where he has to work harder than outside. The more one studies this plan the more sensible it seems.Advocating sunken tracks in cities as the best means of avoiding dangerous
grade crossings, the Pittsburgh Dispatch says: "Wherever a railway passes through a section of the city by a road
well below the surrounding territory
there are some of the most attractive and eligible spots of the city. Wherever it passes at grade or by an elevated track its vicinity is condemned by popular consent to inferiority, if not to absolute squalor." It is much truth in this statement, and its lesson should be studied by municipal authorities.In the course of a lecture in San Francisco recently, Dr. A. Barkan referred to the fact that long before such a thing was thought of in Europe Indian medics had established hospitals throughout their country. "Yet," added Dr. Barkan, bitterly, "Americans take it upon themselves to send missionaries to such a people, while the hospitals in their own country suffer for the very funds that are sent thus needlessly abroad." The criticism is well deserved.Boston aldermen want their salaries raised from $1000 to $4000 a year. In Chicago the aldermen get $3 a week, and in Duluth $25 a month. Yet, as the Chicago Times points out, they save nearly all their salaries—some of them save all.The Iowa senate yesterday passed the house bill requiring the American flag to be displayed in every school house in the state. Has John D. Gill been lobbying at Des Moines?Governor McKinley says: "Petitions do not count." After reading yesterday's list of appointments to Illinois offices, Frank Lawler is ready to endorse this statement.A lyceum in a Maine town has decided to debate the question: "Resolved, That man is more intelligent than woman."
Look out for reports of tragedies in that vicinity.Appropos of Mrs. Lease's assertion that she is a Mason, the Chicago Dispatch thinks that the goat ought to be given an opportunity to be heard in rebuttal.Mr. Bede is in great danger of not being confirmed as marshal. The New York Sun is supporting him.

The Girl of the Period.

She leaned at eye against the gate, a maiden
wonderous fair.
A passerby became so charmed, he straightway kissed her there.The maiden neither screamed nor ran, but answered his caress.
And having wheeled him awhile, inquired for his address.And now no more he wonders at her behavior
then.
For he's defendant in a suit she brought for breach of promise.

Sickles Refused to "Cuckoo."

Chicago Inter Ocean: Some of the cuckoos want Gen. Dan Sickles to resign because he won't bow down and say
"cuckoo" to Grover Cleveland's policy of infamy in Hawaii. The old general was heard to say by one of the organs,
"I'll be damned if I do," or words to that effect.

Call Him Jadam.

New York Sun: The Hon. Jadam
Bede, of Zenith City, United States marshal for Minnesota, seems to be one of the poetical divagations of the administration. The Hon. Jadam Bede may be flouted by prosaic politicians of the land of gophers, but nobody who has a soul bigger than Q. Mab's thimble will neglect to recognize and revere in Jadam Bede
a poem, a passion, a delight, a desire,
and a day's eye.

Expelling a Reluctant Scholar.

"You boys are very quiet out there in that barn," called out Willie's mother, suspiciously."Yes," responded Willie, opening the back door and gently urging out into the alley a large yellow dog with a tin can tied to its tail. "We're playin' Sunday school!"

LITERARY NOTES.

Houghton, Mifflin & Co., of Boston,
New York and Chicago, will soon publish the Sir Roger De Coverley Papers.This edition is made most attractive to teacher and pupil by the following special features: A frontispiece which is a reduced reproduction of the first page of the opening number of the Spectator;
the table of contents which gives the author and date of each essay; a chronological table of the principal events in the lives of Addison and Steele; an introduction in which the editor has given the history of the essay and the great influence it exerted on the literature of the eighteenth century, and tells of the career of the Spectator and the reasons of its great and immediate popularity.The notes, which are quite numerous, explain allusions to events and customs contemporaneous with the essays, thus putting the reader into the spirit of the life of the time. The price of this book, which is bound in linen covers with a chronological table of the principal events

"It is much better bread than mother use to bake." Is an expression one hears quite frequently. But the dear old lady was not to blame—such flour as

SPEECH BY MCKINLEY

The Ohio Governor Was a Prominent Figure at the Washington's Birthday Exercises in Chicago.

He Visited the Chicago University and Talked to the Students About the Hatchet Story.

Later He Delivered an Oration at the Auditorium to an Audience of Seven Thousand.

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—Governor Wm. McKinley was the guest of the University of Chicago for a brief hour this morning, and he was accorded a characteristic welcome by the students of that institution. It was the first official celebration of Washington's birthday since the university was formally opened, and the Kent laboratory, in which the exercises were held, was packed to overflowing.

In the Ohio governor appeared in a uniform with President Harrison. He seemed as though bedlam had broken loose. Cheers and counter cheers, college yells and class yells, and the piping voices of the girl students while they waved their cambric handkerchiefs in unison all combined to make a splendid, but without noisy ovation.

After the singing of patriotic selections Governor McKinley was presented and spoke for five minutes on "The Hatchet Story," dealing with that much told of the life of Washington in a half humorous, half serious vein, especially dwelling on the moral sought to be conveyed regarding the necessity of absolute truth and veracity in all the relations of life. He laid emphasis on the fact that the future of the country rested with the students and scholars of the present generation and urged that nothing was more calculated to promote the peace and prosperity of the republic than the observance of patriotic days by the rising generation. The governor received another ovation when he left the hall.

Between 6000 and 7000 people of both sexes crowded the Auditorium and its approaches this afternoon to participate in the annual recognition of the day under the auspices of the Union League club of Chicago. Admission was solely by ticket, and fell 4000 applications were received after the last of the coveted pasteboards had been given out. Upon the platform ministers representing nearly every denomination, the presidents of the various universities and colleges and of the city clubs, Gen. Miles and his staff, and other special guests of the club.

The exercises opened with a rendition of patriotic airs. The invocation was pronounced by Charles H. Fowler, minister of Minneapolis, and President John P. Wilson felicitously introduced the orator of the day, Governor William McKinley, and the applause that followed continued for several minutes. The governor spoke for one hour, eulogizing Washington and drawing lessons from his life, but avoiding all political references. The exercises closed with the singing of "America" by the audience.

It had originally been arranged that the governor should be escorted from the Union League club to the Auditorium by the members of the Cook County Republican marching club in evening dress, silk hats, white umbrellas, a band of sixty pieces, and a carriage with six white horses. Objections to the programme, however, were made by several members of the Union League on the ground that the governor was the guest of that institution and that partisan politics should not enter into the celebration of the day. The members of the Republican club were inclined to insist upon carrying out their program, but the governor himself cut the knot by courteously, but firmly, declining the proposed escort.

At the Union League banquet that follows the exercises at the Auditorium, Association of the Sons of the American Revolution, who held their annual meeting at Welkers. The third continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution held an interesting meeting at which an address of welcome was delivered by the president, general Mrs. Adeline E. Stevenson, the wife of the vice president, to which Mrs. Peck, the wife of Governor Peck, and state regent of Wisconsin, responded. Later in the day a portrait of the late Caroline Scott Harrison, the wife of the ex-president, was unveiled.

PATRIOTISM AT WASHINGTON.

Services Held in Connection With Washington's Birthday.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—All the executive departments closed today in honor of Washington's birthday, though congress remained in session. The district national guard paraded through the snow and slush. Patriotic services were held by the Oldest Inhabitants' association and the veteran volunteer fire companies.

Gen. Joseph C. Breckinridge, U. S. A., delivered an address to the Sons of the American Revolution, who held their annual meeting at Welkers. The third continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution held an interesting meeting at which an address of welcome was delivered by the president, general Mrs. Adeline E. Stevenson, the wife of the vice president, to which Mrs. Peck, the wife of Governor Peck, and state regent of Wisconsin, responded. Later in the day a portrait of the late Caroline Scott Harrison, the wife of the ex-president, was unveiled.

The Aquidaban and Republica Have Sailed Southward.

LONDON, Feb. 22.—A dispatch from Rio Janeiro, dated Feb. 21, says: The insurgent steamer Aquidaban, upon departing from Rio Bay at 4 o'clock this morning, was observed by the government forts and fired upon. She was frequently hit, but passed out apparently not seriously damaged. The Aquidaban, accompanied by the Republica, sailed southward.

TO RESTRAIN THE CHEROKEES.

Suit Begun Over the Sale of the Cherokee Bonds.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—The petition of Edwin D. Chadwick, of New York city, for an injunction against the Cherokee nation, came up for argument yesterday afternoon before Justice Cox on a motion to dissolve the temporary injunction authorized on Feb. 5. This injunction restrains the delegates appointed by the Cherokee nation of Indians from carrying into effect a contract made with R. T. Wilson & Co., of New York, for the sale of Cherokee bonds received in payment for strip lands, on the ground that the Cherokee nation accepted the Wilson bid after having contracted with Edwin D. Chadwick.

The dissolution of the temporary injunction is asked by the Cherokees through their counsel on the ground that it is a suit against an Indian tribe without the consent of congress, and therefore that they have no legal standing and that the court is without authority in the matter. The object of the suit is to force the sale to Chadwick of $500,000 in bonds derived from the sale of the Cherokee outlet.

A SUCCESSOR TO WHITE.

Ex-Governor McEnery or Blanchard May Be Named.

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—A dispatch from New Orleans says: After a caucus held here last night between the governor and his advisers and the leading representative of the sugar interests, it was given out by close friends of the governor that the only appointee of a successor to Senator White would be given to North Louisiana, and that it lay between Ex-Governor McEnery, at present associate justice of the supreme court of Louisiana, and Newton C. Blanchard, chairman of the river and harbor committee of the present congress, and therefore the official or his bosses to touch him at his peril. The record would show that he had been in attendance day after day ever since congress met last summer, and he denounced the arrest as an outrage. He further stated that it was a disgrace, in his opinion, to hold a session of the house on Washington's birthday, and in honor of the memory of that patriot, he moved that the house adjourn.

After some parleying the motion was put, and on division the house voted: Yeas 102, nays 124. The announcement was received with applause on the Democratic side. The yeas and nays were ordered, however, before the question was decided.

THREE ROBBERS CAUGHT.

They Had Robbed a Store and a Post-office.

EUFALA, I. T., Feb. 22.—Last Friday the store and postoffice at Lumie, Seminole nation, of which John Marks is proprietor, was robbed. The robbers secured about $150 in money and a quantity of tobacco and cigars. After securing the booty they went through the old form of marching the proprietor and his clerk about a mile in the timber and telling them to return.

But before letting them go, the robbers told them they were the same gang that robbed the Lumie store some months ago. Marshal Elliott organized a posse and started in pursuit. They were tracked south by Charles H. Fowler, minister of Minneapolis, and President John P. Wilson felicitously introduced the orator of the day, Governor William McKinley, and the applause that followed continued for several minutes. The governor spoke for one hour, eulogizing Washington and drawing lessons from his life, but avoiding all political references.

SIX MEN WERE HELD UP.

A Professional Did a Job in Missouri Very Hands.

HANCOCK, Mo., Feb. 22.—Late yesterday afternoon a stranger entered the store of W. A. Allen & Son, and with a revolver in hand ordered "hands up." Mr. Allen and five or six men were in the store and the order was promptly obeyed.

He then proceeded to the money drawer, taking the contents, helped himself to some jewelry, a revolver and all the cartridges in stock, backed out of the store and escaped. He realized the true situation. The robber wore no mask, is a small man with very red, smooth face, and is undoubtedly a professional.

The Bridge Bills.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—[Special to The Herald.]—Representative Fletcher is authority for the statement that the sub-committee of the commerce committee will probably report favorably at tomorrow's session on one of the two bills now before it for a bridge over the St. Louis river at Duluth. He could not tell whether it would be the Duluth and Superior or the Commercial bill.

Not Yellow Fever.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The Herald's Montevideo special says: The Japanese cook who was transferred from the United States cruiser Newark to the quarantine station here, with the idea that he was suffering from yellow fever, is said by the hospital doctors not to have yellow fever. They diagnose his case as typhoid fever, not the dreaded "yellow jack."

Street Railway in Trouble.

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—A dispatch from Sioux City, Iowa, says: Judgment was rendered in the district court in favor of the Fidelity Loan and Trust company against the Sioux City Street Railway company for $55,000 on its bond issue, and a decree foreclosing the trust deed given to secure the bonds issued.

Maj. J. L. Mitchell Dead.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 22.—Maj. James L. Mitchell, ex-mayor of Indianapolis, died last night of heart disease, the direct result of grip. He was one of the marked men of the city. During the war he served as adjutant general of the 1st Indiana regiment, and the ex-president was his warm friend.

Universal Suffrage Wanted.

VIENNA, Feb. 22.—In this city yesterday twenty-one meetings of workmen were held for the purpose of discussing the universal suffrage. Thirty meetings were held in various parts of Lower Austria, ten in Moravia and fifteen in Bohemia, with the same object.

For the Mediterranean.

BERLIN, Feb. 22.—The emperor has hired at Genoa the steam yacht Christabel, on board of which he will sail almost immediately for the Mediterranean to be present at the Cannes regatta.

DOINGS OF CONGRESS

Mr. Cummings, of New York, Protested With Much Indignation Against Being Placed Under Arrest.

Warned the Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms of His Rosess to Touch Him at Their Peril.

Mr. Hullick, of Ohio, Complained of Arrest by Telegraph When He Was Absent on Leave.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—In the house Mr. Cummings, of New York, rose to a question of the highest personal privilege. He said that at 11 o'clock this morning while on the floor of the house, he had been approached by a deputy sergeant-at-arms, who told him he was under arrest. He refused, he said, to recognize the service, and warned the official or his bosses to touch him at his peril. The record would show that he had been in attendance day after day ever since congress met last summer, and he denounced the arrest as an outrage. He further stated that it was a disgrace, in his opinion, to hold a session of the house on Washington's birthday, and in honor of the memory of that patriot, he moved that the house adjourn.

After some parleying the motion was put, and on division the house voted: Yeas 102, nays 124. The announcement was received with applause on the Democratic side. The yeas and nays were ordered, however, before the question was decided.

The motion to adjourn was defeated—yeas 117, nays 110. This is regarded as indicating the practical strength of Mr. Bland's supporters, and shows that he will be able to make no progress today in the consideration of his bill, the vote against adjournment being thirty-nine short of a quorum.

Mr. Hullick, (Rep.) of Ohio, arose to a question of privilege and complained that he had been arrested by telegraph while absent on leave of the house. He protested against this practice; said he was not in contempt of the house, and that his name be erased from the warrant. Mr. Bland moved to excuse him, pending which Mr. Sticks, (Dem.) from New York, moved that the house adjourn. This failed by a vote of 107 to 138.

The house received the report of the sergeant-at-arms as to disposition of members ordered arrested on Monday, and the consideration of the report led to an almost unparalleled scene of confusion.

A reading of the warrant disclosed that no names were included within it, and then the Democrats moved to adjourn pending proceedings to dispose of those under arrest. The first motion was rejected—yeas 125, nays 110; the second motion received on division 132 yeas to 101 nays. The yeas and nays were then ordered, and the roll was called. The roll called: Yeas 132, nays 110; and Mr. Dockery at 3:05 announced that the house adjourned until tomorrow at noon.

The Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—[In the senate the house bill to extend the bill for the building of a street railway on the military reservation at Fort Riley, Kan., was reported and passed.

Mr. Martin offered two resolutions which went over without action. One instructs the finance committee to formulate and report to the senate a bill providing for a permanent American financial system, which shall include the free, unrestricted and unlimited coinage and use as money of both gold and silver on the basis of 16 to 1.

The other instructs the judiciary committee to formulate and report a proposed amendment to the constitution for the election of president and vice president of the United States by the direct vote of all the people, for a single term of six years; the president to be elected after ineligible to election for a second term; also providing for the election of United States senators by a direct vote of the people of the several states.

After some more morning business the vice president announced that, under an order heretofore made, the farewell address of Washington would now be read by Senator Martin, of Kansas.

Mr. Martin thereupon took a position by the side of the vice president and read to an attentive but small audience the farewell address. When the reading was finished, the senate adjourned until Monday next.

Gen. Early Very Low.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—A special to the Sun from Lynchburg, Va., says: The chances are against the recovery of Gen. Early. Yesterday he was too feeble to dress himself, and his mind wandered somewhat. His sister, who lives in the South, has been telegraphed for.

ERASTUS WIMAN ARRESTED.

Charged With Embezzlement From R. G. Dun & Co.'s Agency.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Erastus Wiman, formerly manager for R. G. Dun & Co.'s mercantile agency, builder of the Staten Island Rapid Transit railroad and a prominent advocate of the annexation of Canada to the United States, was arrested yesterday charged with forging checks amounting to $250,000. He was arraigned before Judge Martine in chambers, in the general sessions, and committed to the Tombs in default of $25,000 bail.

Mr. Wiman was arrested on complaint of R. G. Dun & Co., and in the complaint it is stated that Dun was the sole owner of the business, and Wiman was a salaried manager, with only such powers as the contract gave him, with additional power to draw checks. The money of R. G. Dun & Co. were not his profits, and yet by various acts of embezzlement, through misrepresentations, concealments, breaches of agreement, misuse of the powers confided to him and gross usurpation of powers with which he was not trusted, it is charged that he succeeded during the years 1880, 1890, 1891, 1892 and up to February 1893, in stealing from Mr. Dun the enormous sum of $250,000. That sum he owes Mr. Dun today.

Erastus Wiman steadfastly declines to receive visitors since his incarceration in the Tombs, with the exception of his lawyers and members of his family. Warden Fallon says that Mr. Wiman, under the circumstances, does not appear unduly depressed and seems to take matters easy. After the first great surprise at his arrest, he seemed to have summoned much courage and does not betray any unusual amount of anxiety.

In response to a note requesting an interview, Mr. Wiman sent the following written statement: "Would be very glad to do so, but under the advice of Gen. Tracy will make no statement until my turn comes. Am sorry to deny anything to a newspaper man, but must adhere to that determination for the present. When the ammunition of the moving powers against me is exhausted and they have done arraigning and trying me in the newspapers it will be time for me to speak."

Assistant District Attorney Lindsay says that the proof submitted to the grand jury consisted of evidence of R. Douglas, a nephew of R. G. Dun, and a member of the firm; Ogden Brower, E. W. Bullinger, and the cashier of R. G. Dun & Co. Ex-District Attorney Nicoll expresses a belief that Mr. Wiman will plead guilty, as he has not a possible defense. Up to 11 o'clock this morning no one had appeared at the Tombs to go on his bond for $25,000 to secure his release, and he would not say whether he expected the coming of any one.

DUPLICATE IN VALUES.

Securities Offered to by Examiner Kenyon Being Made Good.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 22.—[Special to The Herald.]—Public Examiner Kenyon today submitted to the governor a report on the Duluth Loan, Deposit and Trust company, in which he states that its guarantee fund securities are insufficient at present values, but says no one save shareholders are in danger of losing anything. In his last examination he objected to some of the mortgages, since which time the company has changed some of the securities as he recommended, but not all up to the time of his report.

Inquiry of the Duluth Loan, Deposit and Trust company regarding the above building street railway on the military reservation at Fort Riley, Kan., was reported and passed.

WILL SEEK AN INCREASE.

Baldwin and Haugen to Address the Rivers and Harbors Committee.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—[Special to The Herald.]—Representatives Baldwin and Haugen will appear before the committee on rivers and harbors tomorrow to enter a protest against the small appropriation decided upon for the improvement for Duluth and Superior harbors. They are not certain of success but propose to make a vigorous fight for an increase.

An Archbishop Resigned.

ROME, Feb. 22.—The prefect of the propaganda has forwarded a letter to Archbishop Salpointe, of Santa Fe, N. M., informally accepting the resignation of that prelate.

Steele Mackaye's Illness.

CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—Steele Mackaye spent a very bad night, but is considerably easier this morning.

THE DAY WE CELEBRATE

This is the anniversary of the birthday of the man who never told a lie. It is not on record that the Father of His Country was ever in the dry goods business. WEST DULUTH ITEMS

Company G is Arranging for an Old Fashioned Minstrel Show to be Given March 2.

The Company Contains Plenty of Talent and Promises to Give a Highly Meritorious Performance.

Hon. J. D. Boyd is Lingered at Death's Door and May Die at Any Moment.

Company G is making arrangements to give a burnt cork minstrel show at the armory on Friday, March 2, in which the members of the company will take part, assisted by other local musical talent. There will be negro melodies by a full chorus, songs by the company, glee club, and up-to-date gags with the usual side-splitting effects. The company contains some excellent talent, both in comedy and music, which can be used to good advantage in an amateur performance of that character.

Hon. J. D. Boyd Very Low. Out of respect to J. D. Boyd, who is seriously ill, the regular meeting of the C. P. Whist club was postponed last evening. Mr. Boyd is failing rapidly today and his death is expected at any moment.

Washington Exercises. Washington birthday exercises were held at the Longfellow school yesterday. A large flag was draped in the lower hall and each room bore some simple patriotic symbol, recalling incidents in the life of the father of this country.

West Duluth Briefs. Miss Clara Hicks, who has been a sufferer from nervous exhaustion for some time, died about 1 o'clock this morning. Lieut. Patterson of the police force has received orders to have all the men in the department vaccinated.

J. A. Kirkwood and Clay Yeager left for Rainy Lake city today.

Edward Sims, of Chicago, is a guest of his sister Mrs. Joseph Anderson.

Frank Dunn expects to leave shortly for the Rainy Lake country.

The funeral of Mrs. Edward Curry, takes place tomorrow morning from St. James Catholic church at 8 o'clock.

Henry Breen, who has been quite ill, is again able to be out.

Miss Lida Simond is visiting at Manakato.

Abraham Peterson was brought in from the woods yesterday, where he was seriously injured from a saw cut. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital.

DID NOT GET A DOLLAR. Desperate Attempt of Masked Burglars to Rife a Safe.

St. Louis, Feb. 22.—Four desperate masked burglars made a brutal attempt at 11 o'clock this morning to rife the safe of the Hezel Milling company on Broadway, near the Louisville & Nashville railroad tracks near St. Louis.

Fred Block, a fireman, Charles Maynard, a night watchman, and Fred Scheits were beaten insensibility, bound and gagged and the safe doors blown open with powder. The safe contained nothing of value and the robbers failed to get a dollar for their trouble. The robbers escaped.

A Dastardly Assault. OMAHA, Feb. 22.—Mrs. Freda Rothchild, wife of a live-stock dealer, was assaulted at her home this morning by a tramp who attempted to outrage her. She beat him off and finally the tramp for revenge thrust her into a closet, set fire to her clothes, robbed the house of jewelry and decamped.

Mrs. Rothchild is so badly burned she will probably die. She is a sister of Andrew Haas, a wealthy Wyoming ranchman.

The Michigan A. P. A. GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 22.—The Michigan council of the American Protective association has elected the following officers: President, Charles T. Beatty, Saginaw; vice president, John A. Glassford, Detroit; secretary of state, Joseph McLeon, Bay City; chaplain, Dr. Houghton, Lansing; secretary, W. D. Gage, Kalamazoo; treasurer, George H. Thomas, Detroit.

Wants Another Term. DETROIT, Feb. 22.—Senator McMillan, who accompanied the Michigan club banquet here yesterday, returned to Washington to-day, where he will accept a second term in the senate if the Republicans of Michigan desire that he continue to serve in it.

Smuggled Chinamen. CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—Three Chinamen, Wong So, Wing Yuen and Ah Wing, who were smuggled into this country from Canada were arrested here this morning upon their arrival on a Washburn train from Detroit. They were taken before Commissioner Hoyne, who held them in $5000 bail on the charge of violating the Chinese exclusion law.

Dry Goods House Burned. WATERBURY, Conn., Feb. 22.—Fire destroyed the late dry goods house of Conlan Brothers and Miller & Peck in the heart of the dry goods section. Loss over $50,000.

Ocean Steamships. London—Preston, Broadhead, Steamship Britannic, from New York.

THE IRON TRADE REVIEW.

Volume of Business Well Maintained but Prices Lowered.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 22.—The Iron Trade Review today says: "A well-maintained volume of business is the concurrent report from all the principal iron and steel markets of the country. As to prices there is no betterment and in some directions an evident weakening. It is clear that the volume of imperative wants in iron and steel, growing out of the long stalling of consumption, is steadily increasing, and just as clear that there is no disposition in any department of the trade to buy in advance of what contracts in hand will justify.

"So much of the every-day shipment from furnaces and mills is in response to urgent requests to forward at once, that there is no mistaking the policy of buyers everywhere to govern themselves entirely by events. A two-weeks' test proved that the advance in soft steel was too rapid for existing conditions, and buyers have slowed up in the past week, with the result that sales on billets at Pittsburgh are now reported at $15.50, a drop of 50c from the late quotation of sellers. There is a weakening also in Bessemer pig. Today's basis is $10.50@ $10.65.

"Everywhere the rapid increase in the use of steel is in evidence and the increase in the capacity of the Joliet mill is not any proof of this demand, but of the intention of the Chicago company to pursue a more aggressive policy than heretofore. In pig iron the significant development of Southern iron into Northern territory is shown by the further lowering of prices. Not a few transactions can be cited on a basis which would have required Southern producers to figure below $6 for gray (large and below $7 for No. 2 foundry. Western sheet mills report improving demand.

STUDENTS BEING WATCHED.

The Authors of the Cornell Outrage Will Soon Be Arrested.

ITHACA, N. Y., Feb. 22.—The city authorities think they have several clues that will lead to the arrest of the sophomores who caused the death of Mary Jackson, the colored cook, by liberating chlorine gas in the kitchen adjoining the dining room where the freshmen were holding the class supper Tuesday night. They think they know who purchased the tools to make the holes in the floor of the kitchen and where some of the chemicals came from. The suspected students are being watched and will be arrested if they try to leave town. Students Patterson, McNeil and McCulloch, who were suffering from the fumes of the gas, are slowly recovering.

Exciting developments are expected for physicians say that anyone who knew how to arrange the chemicals and apparatus used must have known how deadly the gas is that was generated. State Civil Service Commissioner Van Vleet is foreman of the coroner's jury that is sitting on the case.

SENATORS TO HOLD A CAUCUS.

Duties Likely to be Put on Iron Ore, Coal and Sugar.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Owing to the contention between senators who disagree with the policy of the finance committee in the construction of the tariff and inability of the committee to concede to demands made by those urging higher rates of duty and the transfer of leading articles from the free to the dutiable list it has been decided to hold a caucus of Democratic senators Monday morning.

From remarks dropped by senators after a conference today it is apparent that a duty on coal and sugar will be insisted on that iron ore is not to be omitted in the pressure to be brought to bear upon the finance committee.

While it does not seem possible that the committee would consider for a moment any attempt to take wool off the free list, it is said that this is discussed as a possibility.

A Pastor Vindicated.

WASHINGTON, Penn., Feb. 22.—Rev. Elmer Buckerman, pastor-elect of the Upper Buffalo Presbyterian church, accused by Mrs. Emma Rankin of indecent assault and battery and assault and battery with intent to commit a felony, has been vindicated. The verdict is to the effect that the defendant is not guilty on either count of the indictment, and judges that the prosecutor pay the costs which amount to $400. The jury arrived at this conclusion in about ten minutes.

Colliery on Fire.

HAZELTON, Pa., Feb. 22.—Crystal Ridge colliery, operated by Pardee & Co., is again on fire. The fifth lift was discovered to be burning early this morning and it is now raging fiercely. This is the third time that this has broken out in this mine within a year and each time it was found necessary to re-timber the slope throughout at a cost of many thousands of dollars. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

A Great Occasion.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Feb. 22.—Today, the eighty-second anniversary of the incorporation of the town of Fairhaven, was made a most memorable occasion to the town's people by the formal presentation of the civic corporation of the new town hall, which cost $50,000, and is the gift of Henry H. Rogers and family. Mark Twain was one of the speakers.

Whipped By Whitecaps.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 22.—It is just learned that D. F. Williams and William Turner, two inoffensive farmers, were terribly whipped by Whitecaps about ten miles from this city, the night before last. The men came here today and swore out warrants for their assailants. The victims had given information to the government about counterfeiting down in their neighborhood.

Cattle and Hogs.

UNION STATION, YARDS, Chicago, Feb. 22.—Cattle: Receipts 14,000; market steady. Hogs: Receipts 20,000; market steady. Sheep: Receipts 10,000; market steady. Light $5.45@5.50; heavy packing $5.50@5.55; light $5.60@5.65; heavy packing $5.65@5.70; market medium.

FREILAND IN AFRICA.

The Pioneer Experiment to Demonstrate the Theories of Dr. Hertka.

Many kinds of government have been tried in Africa. There have been despotisms rivaling that of the Russian czar, and there have been anarchies rivaling the most lurid visions of Most and Poncelet. But it has been reserved for the present year to see in that dark continent an experiment of what may be termed civilized communism: the communism of European doctrine—that is, as distinguished from the older and simpler communism of Borrioboola-Gha. This experiment comprises the founding of a large colony in British east Africa, cosmopolitan in character, Germany, England, the United States and other nations contributing to the ranks of the pioneers.

The basis on which this colony is to be organized and conducted is the same as that laid down by Dr. Theodor Hertka, the well known Austrian economist, in his book, "Freiland," from which the district will take its name. In accordance with the principles laid down by the Austrian professor, the land will, from the outset, be the property neither of individuals nor of the community, but will be free to the use of all, without payment of rent. Every kind of industry, agricultural or otherwise, will be conducted by voluntary groups or associations of self governing men, who will be the owners of all they can produce, but will have no exclusive right to the land.

The first batch of colonists will leave for their new home in a few weeks. They will number about 20, and will include persons of all nationalities, among them several Englishmen and Americans. They will sail from Hamburg, probably by the German East African line of steamers, to Lamu, 40 miles north of Tana river, where they will land. As part of their equipment they will take on the deck of the ocean steamer a small stern wheel river boat of 40 horsepower, which will be used to tow the lighters containing the expedition and its impedimenta.

The colonists will go up the river as far as the first falls at Hargazo, a point about 250 miles from the sea, where the mountainous country begins. The steamer will subsequently be used as a mail packet between the station to be built at Hargazo and the settlement at Vitt, at the river mouth. She will also serve to convey batches of immigrants when the pioneers have completed their preparatory work and the actual work of colonization begins. A second party of 40 will leave Hamburg a few weeks later than the pioneers.

The first party will be under the leadership of Dr. Julius Wilhelm, who has as his lieutenant Herr Clemens Denhardt, a German trader of Vitt, who has extensive relations with the natives on the banks of the Tana and is well acquainted with the language and customs of the people. The expedition will include several medical men and a number of practical engineers. A sum of $250 is subscribed by each man, $75 of which will be expended in the ocean passage, leaving a balance of $175 per head available for general purposes. In addition to this sum many thousands of dollars have been subscribed by the public. Several exalted personages have contributed.

The site of the new colony will be Machukolani, a country about 150 miles from the river station at Hargazo, 100 miles south of Mount Kenya, the great mountain, 18,400 feet high, recently explored by Dr. Gregory of the British museum. The camp at Hargazo will be supplied from this district, and a young Englishman will leave England shortly in advance of the pioneer party and take a caravan from Mombasa to Machukolani and thence to Hargazo. The object of his journey is to purchase cattle and hire native porters at Machukolani. As soon as the pioneers arrive, lightly equipped parties of explorers will be dispatched to the Kenya district to choose the actual sites for the settlements. This is not expected to prove a difficult task, between Machukolani and the Tana there is a wide valley, some eight miles broad and 40 miles long, with a stream running through the center, where the soil is a rich alluvium, and water could probably be found in any part by sinking wells.—New York Tribune.

Hard Times in England.

A trade review published by a leading English newspaper says of the business conditions in that country that "trade during 1932 was worse even than in 1892. A general gloom now hangs over the country's industries," and that "there has been a shrinkage of every important class of imports and exports." In addition to this, it is asserted that the coal trade and the trade in textiles have declined enormously. The cotton trade is demoralized, while the exports of cotton piece goods show a serious decrease.

This picture of the depression of trade in England reveals that there are general as well as national causes affecting commerce throughout the world. Hard times in England are certainly of no benefit to America. That hard times exist there reveals that England at least is not prospering by the unfavorable conditions in this country.—Chicago Record.

Speaking Conservatively.

Speaking for the field included in the parish of the De Witt Memorial church, New York city, which has a population of about 60,000, the Rev. Mr. Elsing said: "In my experience of 11 years of working among these people, I have never known such widespread distress exists now. I have never known a time when their condition was so critical. I have never known a time when work was so scarce. I wish to speak with the utmost conservatism, but I do not hesitate to say that many hundreds of families within the district bounded by Grand street, Sheriff street, Houston street and the East river are in the poorest need. These people must live on charity if they are to live at all. They are naturally an industrious people, but they are utterly unable to get work at any price."

Bank Note Taxation.
Messrs. Warner, Hall, of Missouri, and Henderson, of Illinois, a sub-committee of the house committee on banking and currency, have agreed to report favorably to the full committee the bill introduced by Representative Cooper of Indiana, "to subject to state taxation national bank notes and United States treasury notes." The bill provides "that all circulating notes of national banking associations and all United States legal tender notes and all other notes and certificates of the United States payable on demand and circulating as currency shall not be exempt from taxation under the authority of any state or territory; provided, that any such taxation shall be exercised in the same manner and at the same rate that any such state or territory shall tax other money within its jurisdiction."

The report to accompany, it is understood, will point out the importance of the bill as a measure designed to prevent fraud upon the tax duplicates of the states. Nearly all the money on deposit throughout the country, it will be said, is returned as greenbacks and thus escapes taxation. If none of the forms of money are exempt it will be impossible to use any of them as a cloak for hiding the existence of funds.

The report will call attention to the fact that reports to the comptroller of the currency show that more than $100,- 000,000 of the national bank reserve funds are held in greenbacks. If these were made taxable by the states as other forms of money, the banks would use silver to a considerable extent in making up their reserves, thus increasing the circulation of that metal now largely stored in the treasury vaults.

This measure may encounter considerable opposition from banking and other interests, and they may prove powerful enough to defeat it. Yet it is a bill that contains considerable merit. It will give the assessors another opportunity of cornering the tax dodger who keeps his money locked up in banks and has no visible property that can be taxed. By this measure provision will be made for distributing the burdens of taxation more equally. It will compel many who now escape taxation to bear their just proportion and it will relieve those who now pay more than their share.

The Pennsylvania Election.
Judging from the way the vote went in Pennsylvania on Tuesday, this would be a bad year for the Democracy to enter a presidential campaign. If the present state of public feeling continues until next fall, there will be few Democratic members of the next congress, and the Republicans will also stand a good show of getting control of enough state legislatures to increase their strength in the senate. A very small gain would give them control once more of the upper branch of congress.

The result in Pennsylvania is astonishing. It was a complete rout for the Democrats. Complete returns from three-fourths of the sixty-seven counties in the state and close estimates of the remaining counties show a plurality of 169,591 for Galusha. Grow, the Republican candidate, for congressman at large.
This is the largest plurality ever given by the state for any candidate, and may be increased to 175,000. The Republicans made almost a clean sweep of the counties, only eleven of the sixty-seven counties giving a plurality for the Democratic candidate. In 1892 twenty-eight counties gave pluralities for the Democratic candidate for congressman at large.

While the election of Mr. Grow was a foregone conclusion it was hardly expected that his plurality would reach such very large figures. In 1892 Harrison received 63,747 plurality, while in 1888
he had over 79,000 plurality, while at the election in 1893, Jackson, the Republican nominee for state treasurer, piled up a plurality of 135,146. This was the highest plurality ever given in the state, previous to last Tuesday. Once the Republican plurality in Pennsylvania fell to 17,000, while the Democrats twice elected their candidate for governor, this being due to the weakness and bad records of the Republican candidates. The latter fact disproves the assertions of some Democratic organs that the people are driven like cattle to the polls and vote as the political bosses demand. On the contrary it shows that the people think for themselves, are independent and vote as they believe it to be to the state's interest. The election on Tuesday was on one issue only—the Democratic tariff policy as embodied in the Wilson bill. The verdict is an emphatic repudiation of that measure.

Galusha A. Grow, the congressman-elect, is a statesman of the old school, who was a member of congress from the same state for several years, before the end of the war, and although now 70 years of age he is hale, hearty and vigorous, entering upon the campaign now closed with much spirit and conducting it with great vigor. A biographer of Mr.
Grow says he was a successful practitioner at the bar before 1859, and so active and important a part did he take in the stirring times of the '50's that his return to congress will be like the introduction to the body of a section of the political history of other days. Mr.
Grow was a law partner of David Wilmot, of "Wilnot Proviso" fame, succeeding his partner in congress as a Democrat. He was a successful and influential member for a dozen years, taking an important part in the debates on the grave questions leading up to or growing out of the war. He abandoned the Democratic party on the repeal of the "Missouri Compromise." He was elected speaker of the house in 1861, serving until 1863, about which time he retired from congress and from active political life. He engaged in railroad enterprises in the West, and in 1876 he declined the Russian mission tendered him
by President Hayes.

An Inviting Field.
In another column will be found a letter from D. A. Petre by the advantages for farming presented on the lands surrounding the city of Duluth. Mr. Petre has always taken a deep interest in this subject, and has earned the right to speak thereon with authority.
It is a fact that should attract attention that during the hard times the farmers in the territory surrounding Duluth have experienced no financial difficulties and have not suffered by the absence of any necessities or comforts. Their cellars and barns have been filled to overflowing, and want has been a stranger to them. In the midst of those whose means have been reduced to a small amount barely sufficient to procure enough food to "keep the wolf from the door," they have lived in plenty. Mr. Petre wonders why their happy and independent lot has not caused many others to start farming operations around the city. It is strange that men well fitted for the agricultural industry should continue to plod along year after year in the cities earning hardly enough to clothe and feed themselves and families, when by starting farming on a modest scale, raising vegetables and fruit for the Duluth market, they could in a few years become independently rich.

The statistics presented by Mr. Petre,
as to the profits to be made here in market gardening and the large sums annually sent out of the city for vegetables and fruits, are striking and they should be the means of proving to many the advantage of turning their attention to this subject. A point which Mr. Petre has not mentioned is that a public market house in Duluth would do much to increase the number of market gardeners in the vicinity of the city.

Ambassadors being "near" the courts to which they are accredited, what could be more convenient for them than to call and collect any little claim one of their country men or women might have against the sovereign? Mrs. Bayard has been requested by a woman out West to call on Queen Victoria and ask the latter to please remit for a bottle of herb medicine sent to the prince of Wales
when he was sick some twenty years ago. Mrs. Bayard, being the wife of an ambassador, was assumed to have a more sympathetic heart for a woman yearning for payment for herb medicine than one of the sterner sex. Up to the latest advices Mrs. Bayard had taken no steps looking to the collection of the bill.

In New York they are doing a great deal now to promote a literary atmosphere. At a recent luncheon of the costliest and most exquisite kind, there was placed at every lady's plate not only a bunch of violets but "a dainty book bound in white and gold" containing "the gems of thought of the best authors." It sounds like culture served on toast while you wait.

The arrest of Erastus Wiman for embezzling over $200,000 from R. G. Dun &
Co.'s commercial agency is a surprise.
It is stated Mr. Wiman was not a member of the firm but only a salaried manager and was not entitled to any of the profits, yet the firm carried on business
in Canada under the name of Dun, Wiman & Co. Few New Yorkers are better known than Mr. Wiman.

The Superior Court apologizes for a shortage in local news, "owing to an accident in the mechanical department."
This is a novel excuse, but of course it "goes."

A recent legal decision in the East declares that a member of a club is not liable for an assessment unless he voted for it. This lets out a good many who are complaining of his times. It may interest some in Duluth.

The New York Evening Post strikes out an axiom when it says, "In our day neither good administration nor sound legislation can possibly be obtained from an unscrupulous party man except by the merest accident."

WHY CAN'T I WORK?

Why Do I Get Weak and Tired
so Easily?

Questions That Are Constantly Asked by Thousands

A Prominent Business Man Gives Advice Needed by Everybody.

The world is filled with weak, suffering men and women. Oh! if they could only be made well and strong, how different their lives would be. And they can be so just as well not. Read the following letter from Mr. Joseph A. Slayton, one of the most prominent men of Calais, Vt.

"Two years ago I was taken with the grip. I had to take to my bed and was very sick. I came very near death. I was confined to my bed six weeks.
When I got up I was very weak and could not just get around. I employed physicians who did me very little good.

"I had serious trouble with my heart,
so bad that I fell and received serious injury. I was completely run down and could not do any work on account of nervous prostration. I was thoroughly discouraged. A friend advised me to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

"I had to give something to help me immediately or I could not live long.

"Other medicines which I had tried did me no good. I took one bottle of
Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and it set me right on my feet.
I could not help having faith in it. I cured me completely. Before I took it I was so dizzy I did not dare go away to work alone, would fall down and hurt me badly. Since taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, my health is good and my nerves are steady.
I know it is the best medicine and advise
all to use it."

If you are weak, sickly, nervous, run down, or have any nervous or chronic disease, take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It will surely cure you. The spring is the best time to take it. You can always be cured quickest at this season. Everybody needs a spring medicine, and there is none which will do as much for you as
Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is a positive cure. Try it.
It is purely vegetable and harmless and is the discovery of Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York city, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted personally or by letter, free of charge.

SALE.
Whereas default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage executed and delivered by Charles Hansen, mortgagor, to Irving Wilson, mortgagee, dated the 11th day of December, A. D. eighteen hundred and eighty-one, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of the county of St. Louis in the state of Minnesota, on the 28th day of December, A. D.
1881, at 8 o'clock a. m., in book 27 of mortgages on page 186, on which there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, the amount of twenty-one hundred ninety and 8/10 ($21,900 100/100) dollars, and no action or proceeding has been instituted at law or in equity to recover
the same, and the said mortgage is duly assigned by the said Wilson to the said J. L.
Hansen by assignment dated the 5th day of February, A. D. 1894, and recorded in the office of said register of deeds on the 11th day of February, A. D. 1894, at 5:30 o'clock a. m., in book 28 of mortgages on page 87.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of said mortgage premises and the proceeds of said sale shall be paid therein described and the said mortgage shall be sold by the sheriff of said county of St. Louis at the highest bidder for cash, at the front door of the court house in the city of Duluth in the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, on Monday, the ninth day of April, A. D.
eighteen hundred and ninety-four, at 10 o'clock a. m., to satisfy the amount of said mortgage and the interest thereon, and the costs of sale and disbursements allowed by law.
The premises described in said mortgage, and so to be sold, are the pieces or parcels of land situate in the city of Duluth and state of Minnesota, and known and described as follows,
to-wit: The southeast quarter of section 36 (1/4 of 36) and southwest quarter of northwest quarter of section 37 (1/4 of 37) in township

Village Ordinance No. 4.

An Ordinance to License and Regulate Hawkers and Peddlers in the Village of Hibbing.

The Village Council of the Village of Hibbing
do ordain as follows:
Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person within the limits of the village of Hibbing, Minnesota, to sell or offer for sale, or to display, or to have in possession, or to merchandise, or any article of any description, as hawk, peddler or itinerant, without having license so to do pursuant to the provisions of this ordinance.

Section 2. Any person desiring to hawk, peddle or carry within the limits of said village shall pay to the treasurer of said village five dollars
for each day on which he intends to hawk, peddle or carry in said village, and shall receive from said treasurer a receipt for the amount so paid. Upon presenting said receipt and filing the same with the recorder of said village, said recorder shall issue to the person
so presenting the same a license to hawk,
peddle or carry in said village for the period of time for which payment shall have been made, and the license shall be valid until the time when the same shall terminate.

Section 3. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be liable to punishment therefor, to be in a sum not less than five dollars, as hawk, peddler or itinerant, or to be in a sum not less than five dollars, as hawk, peddler or itinerant, and in default of payment thereof, shall be confined to the jail of St. Louis County, Minnesota, until payment be made, not to exceed thirty days.

Section 4. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication.

Adopted December 12, 1893.

Quiet Day at the City Hall.

Things were "deader'n a door nail" around the city hall and at the land office today. No municipal court was held, the building inspector's office is closed and while the city clerk's office is open, very little business is being transacted.

The members of the board of public works put in their time laughing and telling stories and every thing over the building was most stagnant indeed. In the Temple building the elevator even was not running and many a curse was muttered by those who had business on the land office floor.

AT THE ROARING GAME.

The Curlers Have Opened Their Borspiel at Glen Avon Rink and Having Great Sport.

The Contest for the Merriam Medal Was Begun This Morning and is Still Proceeding.

Tonight the Various Rinks Will Start the Contest for the Handsome Glen Avon Cup.

The borspiel is on and all life and excitement at the Glen Avon rink today. The curlers ring with the shouts of the jolly curlers and the cries of "on wi him, my lads, on wi him." Thorough good feeling and friendliness always prevails in curling and it is one spot in which there never is any betting. There are no professional curlers and it is a game which has never been accused of having demoralizing tendencies. There is no such thing as class, the banker and mechanic play side by side and the motto is "We're brothers."

The St. Paul curlers, or most of them, arrived last evening and the balance with Tom Hastings' rink from Minneapolis came in this morning. They are quartered at the St. Louis hotel, the headquarters. Among those who are up here are William Rodger, president of the Northwestern Curling association and an old time curler; George O. Nettleton, the famous St. Paul skip; Jack McMillan, Nettleton's third and one of the best players in the country; Dr. Whitcomb, C. M. Griggs of the firm of Griggs, Cooper & Co., Dr. Murray and many other curlers. Alex McCulloch, secretary of the St. Paul club and John McCulloch came up this morning, both are skips. J. C. Harper, Tom and Sam Hastings, A. B. Wood, Dr. Kelly, Tom Scott and others came this morning.

The drawing for the first and second events—the contest for the Merriam medal and the Glen Avon match—were made last evening. R. J. MacLeod and George Mackenzie's rinks drew byes.

The rinks are pitted against each other in the Merriam medal contest as follows:

St. Paul—

Alex Macrae,

E. S. Palmer,

J. H. Quigley,

D. McLeod, skip 13.

Duluth—

H. A. Ware,

J. C. Ten Eyck,

T. P. Towan,

J. C. Hunter, skip 12.

In the Glen Avon match the drawing resulted as follows:

Duluth—

Tom Gibson,

Ronald Smith,

R. J. MacLeod, skip.

Duluth—

J. C. Ten Eyck,

A. B. Wood,

J. C. Ten Eyck, skip.

Duluth—

A. S. Wilson,

J. A. Smith,

R. R. Macfarlane, skip.

The drawing covered the curlers and was presented to Jay Anderson's and he was presented to William Rodger as the Duluth mascot, the latter being the St. Paul mascot. Billiards, pool and bowling followed for a couple of hours or more.

George Nettleton's full rink, the one which played at Winnipeg, is not here. Judge Cory and J. G. Hinkel not having arrived. They will be here on Saturday to play for the Caledonian cup. Duluth has a rink entered for the Merriam medal and Glen Avon match, of which much is expected. It is a combination of R. J. MacLeod's and Harry Hurdon's rinks, the two best in the Duluth club. Tom Gibson will lead; Ron Smith, second; Harry Hurdon, third and R. J. MacLeod, skip.

THIS MORNING'S CURLING.

Duluth Rinks Got Somewhat the Worst of It in the First Draw.

Everybody's spirits were "way up in C" when the borspiel opened this morning. The ice was fine and the anticipations were strong for some great sport. They were realized and there was some exciting playing. The result of this morning's playing was as follows:

St. Paul—

A. Macrae,

E. S. Palmer,

J. H. Quigley,

D. McLeod, skip 13.

Duluth—

H. A. Ware,

J. C. Ten Eyck,

TO SECURE A QUORUM

Mr. Bland's Vain Struggle to Get a Quorum To Vote on His Seigniorage Measure.

From Fifty to One Hundred Men Have Sat Silent When Their Votes Were Wanted.

Mr. Bynum Has a Plan Which He Believes Cause Every Member To Vote.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—For eleven days has Mr. Bland struggled vainly to secure a voting quorum on his seigniorage measure. The bill, which he is anxious to pass, has not been a moment when a call of the house did not disclose the presence of any where from 25 to 275 members. In other words, from fifty to 100 men have sat silent in the hall when their votes were wanted.

Indeed it has become a common thing nowadays, on the most trivial matters, for a disaffected minority to combine together for silence and make their presence known in calling attention to the lack of a quorum. It is made possible by their failure to be recorded. Something, therefore, must be done, if the house is not to be rendered entirely impotent. The Republicans, of course, are quick to suggest a remedy. "Follow Mr. Reed," they say, "and count a quorum."

If the propositions so far submitted are open to objections, which are obviated by a rule which Mr. Bynum, of Indiana, has framed, and will then vote, Mr. Bynum does not think that the responsibility for declaring members present and not voting should be vested in the speaker. His plan is simple, but effective.

He proposes when a roll call shall disclose the lack of a quorum, a call of the house shall be ordered, which call shall also be a vote upon the question before the house. Consequently when a member answers "here," he must also record his yes or no. If he simply responds "here," without adding his vote, he registers himself as present and aids by his own act in establishing the record. A quorum present which cannot be controverted.

If to escape from voting, he will not answer "here," then he is constructively, if not literally, absent, and is liable to the penalty of the statute which deducts the salary of absent members for each day that he is away from the house without leave. Mr. Bynum believes that his plan will meet all the difficulties presented by other resolutions. It is not at all unlikely that it will soon be a subject of party discussion.

Yesterday a call being circulated for a caucus to be held next Monday, at which the adoption of a rule to nullify the present power of the non-voting members shall be the order of the day, which was in the hands of Representative Paynter, of Kentucky, received before the house adjourned, thirty signatures, or more than enough to make the caucus a probability. The result of this caucus, if it is held, will be awaited with interest, especially by Mr. Bland, a pioneer counter of congressional quorums.

The galleries of the house were crowded this morning in anticipation of a repetition of the disorderly scenes of yesterday. There was an absence of any indications of excitement on the floor, it being understood that a motion would be made by Mr. Bland to discharge all the members under arrest and put an end to the unpleasant incident. Mr. Adams, whose case was pending when the house adjourned yesterday, occupied a chair in the center aisle, directly in front of the clerk's desk, but order to appear before the bar of the house not having been exhausted.

The house was called to order by Clerk Kerr, in the absence of Speaker Crisp, who is confined to his room by illness. He read a letter from the speaker appointing Mr. Richardson speaker pro tem and Mr. Richardson took the chair. There was a tendency to renew the scenes of yesterday, but the speaker restrained it by ordering the aisles cleared before proceeding to business. The question upon the discharge of Mr. Adams on the ground that he had been unauthorized was stated. On a division the vote was announced as 86 to 121. Mr. Reed asked for tellers, and Mr. Bland called for the yeas and nays, which were ordered. The vote resulted: Yeas, 95; nays, 159. So the previous question was not ordered.

Mr. Bland offered the following substitute for Reed's motion: Resolved, that all members who have been arrested by authority of the house, adopted on the 10th inst., are hereby discharged from custody.

To this Mr. Reed raised the point of order that his motion related to a single individual the substitute covered all of a class, which was clearly inadmissible. The chair ruled that Mr. Reed's point of order was well taken, that every gentleman under arrest was entitled to a separate hearing, because the circumstances in several cases may be different.

ONLY THIRTY WERE PRESENT.

"Grand Mass Meeting" of the Populist Party at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Feb. 23.—The Populist party held what was intended to be a grand mass meeting at the Central Turner hall last night, but the destructive conflagration at Twelfth and Locust streets proved the stronger attraction. When the meeting was called to order by the chairman, J. B. Follett, of St. Louis, about thirty men were present. The proceedings commenced with a review of the situation. For the strengthening of the cause it was resolved to form an organization to be known as the Populist Party Central club, with Mr. Follett as temporary chairman. A meeting will be called at an early date to complete the organization and elect officers.

The speaker for the evening, Robert Schilling, of Milwaukee, then addressed the meeting. He gave to his hearers an exposition of the Populist doctrines and their bearing on the issues that are agitating the minds of the leaders of the people at the present time. Mr. Schilling then dwelt at length on the subject of capital and labor from a socialist standpoint.

That illegitimate offspring of the People's party, the sub-treasury scheme, was next paraded before the audience in the swaddling clothes of specious argument and infinity of figures. Before concluding his address by a few words on old age pensions, Mr. Schilling enjoined his audience not to believe what the Republican or Democratic newspapers said about the numerical strength of the People's party in the various states, for they were gross misstatements, a remark that was greatly applauded.

ANTI-A. P. A. DEMONSTRATION.
Three Thousand People Hold an Enthusiastic Meeting at Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 23.—An immense anti-American Protective association demonstration was held here last night at the Academy of Music, 3000 people filling the house. All classes of people were represented and great enthusiasm displayed. Resolutions were adopted amid cheers denouncing the A. P. A. and the "ceaseless attempts of the most unscrupulous and contemptible kind to disturb the peace of the city by arousing the strongest possible prejudice against its Catholic citizens and institutions."

The methods of the association were denounced as an insult on the fair intelligence of the American people. The tactics of the association were also denounced as an insult upon the intelligence of the American people. The association are related, and the resolutions declare that it is an insult upon the intelligence of the American people. The strength of its government and the power of its courts to say that its 50,000,000 of non-Catholics need not be less than the less than 10,000,000 of Catholics in the United States.

A denial is made that the Catholics of Milwaukee are the less than 10,000,000 of Catholics in the United States. A denial is made that the Catholics of Milwaukee are the less than 10,000,000 of Catholics in the United States. A denial is made that the Catholics of Milwaukee are the less than 10,000,000 of Catholics in the United States.

The party climbed the ice mountain and while on the brink, Burke's hat was blown off and rolled down the ice on one side of the mountain towards the American falls. Burke, without thinking of danger, dropped down on his stomach to secure his hat. He began to slip down the side of the ice mountain towards the whirling water and certain death. He shouted "help" and Kelly, leaning over, caught his foot. The ice was slippery and Kelly lost his footing, and he, too, began to slip.

Dennison, who is a big powerful man, grabbed Kelly's leg, and thus the three men formed a loop over the top of the mountain. Kelly shouted "For God's sake, boys, don't let go!" Dennison managed to get Kelly over to his side of the mountain, and then he pulled Burke up. He brought his hat with him.

THE BRAZILIAN REBELS.
Bitter Because They Are Not Recognized as Belligerents.

New York, Feb. 23.—A Herald's Rio Janeiro cable says: England's refusal to recognize the rebels as belligerents is viewed with disfavor by British residents in this city and is attributed to the influence of the United States. The insurgents themselves feel very bitter toward Argentina and Chile for their refusal of the same request.

Admiral da Gama has been treated for the three wounds he received in the fight proved a great surprise to the rebels sailors already almost worn out by their exertions, and many of them were run away and left behind. They fought with great bravery, too, but were outnumbered.

Ex-Consul Returning.
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 23.—W. D. Thilston, ex-consul general to Japan, Dr. O. H. Simon, ex-consul at Hong Kong, and Samuel L. Geenacey, ex-consul at Foo Chow, have arrived here per steamer Oceanic en route to Washington.

A FAMINE IN TEXAS

The People of Starr County Are in a Desperate Condition Owing to Continued Drouth.

Nearly All Cattle, Horses and Sheep Are Dead and No Crops Raised Last Year.

Great Destitution and Want Exists and Many Persons, Especially Children, Have Hardly Enough Clothing.

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 23.—Information comes from Starr county, on the Mexican border, to the effect that a famine is threatened there. A public meeting was held at Paisano, Starr county, on Feb. 15, and resolutions were adopted setting forth that on account of the drouth that has existed in that section of the country for the past few years, but especially for the past thirteen months, 90 per cent of all cattle, horses and sheep are dead; no crops of any kind have been raised or harvested during the past year; that great destitution and absolute want exists among our people; that many are compelled to subsist on roots, prickly pears, etc.

Even the half putrid flesh has been stripped from the carcasses of dead animals and eaten to satisfy the gnawing pangs of hunger and many persons, especially children, have hardly sufficient clothing to cover them. They can no longer assist their starving fellow creatures and they appeal to the charity of the world and the benevolence of those whom God has blessed with greater abundance than themselves for contributions of money, clothing, corn, beans, flour or provisions of any kind. All contributions should be addressed to the relief committee at Beville or Alice, Texas.

DULUTH BRIDGE BILLS.
Bills Reported for Bridges at Rice's and Grassy Points.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—[Special to The Herald.]—The committee on commerce today reported favorably on the Duluth and Superior Bridge company's bill for a bridge from Connor's to Rice's Point, with an appropriation for the elevation of the draw at twenty-eight feet, so as to enable whaleback barges to pass under it. They also reported favorably on Representative Haugen's bill for a bridge at Grassy Point.

Representative Haugen today presented a remonstrance signed by Martin Patison and 150 other residents of Superior against the granting of any bridge franchises to the street railway company of that city, or to any corporation in which the street railway company is interested.

THE DEMURRER SUSTAINED.
Decision in a Guaranty Loan Company Case at Minneapolis.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 23.—The long-looked for decision of Judges Russell and Jamison in the two suits of the First National Bank, of Merrill, Wis., and the National New Haven bank against the directors of the Northwestern Guaranty loan company was filed in the office of the district court this morning.

In this decision the demurrer to the directors of the Northwestern Guaranty loan company on the ground that they had been criminally negligent in conducting the affairs of the company. The grounds of the demurrer were that one creditor should sue for all or that the receiver should sue for all creditors. This last point the judges held to be not good law.

DR. KING HAS VARIOLOID.
He Was Placed in a Hospital in Chicago Today.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Dr. H. S. King, who arrived in the city from Dublin this morning, was taken to the small pox hospital shortly after his arrival suffering from varioloid. Dr. King said he had been taking care of a small pox patient in Dublin and no doubt contracted the disease there.

MURDER OF A JAILER.

Was Shot By a Condemned Murderer and Five Prisoners Escaped.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 23.—Last evening Henry Spencer, the condemned murderer who has been confined in Thomas county jail shot the jailer, Tim Singletary, and made his escape. Singletary died two hours later. The jailer went to the cells to feed the prisoners, and while he stopped to set the food on a table, Jim Cassidy called on him to throw up his hands. As he did this the sheriff struck him in the face with a lock which he held in his hand, felling him to the floor.

Henry Spencer seized the sheriff's pistol from behind and, as he turned, shot him in the face and again in the neck. Five of the prisoners dashed out over the bleeding sheriff and escaped into the pine woods. The alarm spread like wildfire and Sheriff Doss quickly summoned a party of deputies who left on horseback in hot pursuit.

The feeling against the fugitives is so intense that they will have difficulty in escaping lynching. Henry Spencer, who thus becomes for a second time a murderer, was convicted of the murder of a young farmer a month ago, and is now under death sentence.

THE ATCHISON AND FRISCO.
Bondholders Want Separate Receivers for the Two Roads.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 23.—There was a conference yesterday of the Atchison and Frisco people at which there were also present J. F. Reinhardt, president and receiver of the Atchison; J. C. Wilson, receiver at Topeka, and W. W. Green, of Alexander & Green, attorneys-at-law, New York. This meeting was preliminary to a suit that is to be brought in the United States circuit court today to bring about a change of policy.

There has been a general feeling of dissatisfaction among the general mortgage bondholders of the Frisco company ever since the receivers were appointed for the two roads—the Atchison and Frisco. They say that it is impossible for the present receivers to handle both properties fairly. They want to take the property out of the jurisdiction of the United States court and place it under the circuit court of the state.

WILL TRY TO GET BAIL.
Erastus Wiman's Eldest Son in a Dying Condition.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Erastus Wiman has reconsidered his determination not to seek release from the tombs through bail bond, and will today make an effort to secure bondsmen for the $25,000 bail. Mr. Wiman says his anxiety is to reach the bedside of his son, Wm. Dwight Wiman, who lies at the point of death from pneumonia at New Brighton, L. I.

In reply to a note sent him this morning, Mr. Wiman wrote as follows: "I did not intend to ask for bail, but the dying condition of my eldest son, the dreadful sorrow that overshadows his mother and sweet wife surely demand my presence beside them. If I can get a friend to go on my bond—I am in communication with a gentleman, and hope to be able to go to Staten Island today."

FIRE RAGING IN A MINE.
It Is Feared that All the Miners Have Not Escaped.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 23.—Fire has broken out in the Springfield Junction coal mines and is fiercely raging. The flames are now in the main shaft, which will destroy the entire top works. If the flames get into the mine proper the loss will be over $100,000, as the mine is one of the best and largest in Central Illinois. It is feared that all the miners are not out of the shaft and much excitement prevails.

HON. J. D. BOYD IS DEAD

After an Acute Illness Caused by a Complication of Diseases He Died Last Night.

He Was Formerly President of West Duluth and Served in the Legislature One Term.

Ex-Mayor Martin Has Called a Meeting of Citizens for Saturday Night For Appropriate Action.

After an acute illness brought on by a complication of diseases Hon. J. D. Boyd passed away last evening at 9:30 o'clock. Mr. Boyd was born at Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 26, 1847. When but a young lad his father died and his mother afterward remarrying the family moved to a farm near Grand Rapids, Mich. Farm life was too prosaic for one of his nature to follow and after receiving the best portion of a college education he became an accountant in the register of deeds office at Grand Rapids. The duties of a clerk did not, however, meet the fullness of his ambition and he determined to study law and applied for a position in the law office of Targert, Simonds & Co., of which O. H. Simonds, of Duluth, was at that time a member.

He engaged with this firm at the princely salary of $4 per week, but at the end of the first or second week his employer discovered he was a young man of unusual mettle and his weekly stipend was raised to $6. He remained with the firm until admitted to the bar when he refused a salary of $1500 a year from his employers and commenced the practice of law beneath the shingle of John D. Boyd. About this time his health failed and then began a battle with disease which, although it cast a shadow over his best efforts, was carried on with a relentless power of will which compelled the admiration of everyone with whom he came in contact and seemed to almost banish death and physical decay. In hopes of recuperating his shattered health and fortune, about fourteen years ago he migrated to Fargo, Minn., where he was actively engaged in several enterprises, holding among other responsible offices the position of cashier of the First National bank of that city.

In 1888, Mr. Boyd came to Duluth and in 1889 went into partnership with G. J. Maloney in the real estate and insurance business at West Duluth. From that time to the present his history is so well known that it hardly needs repetition. Notwithstanding ill health and the cares of private business, he has always taken a deep interest in politics. He honorably filled the position of president of the village of West Duluth for one term and afterwards ably represented his constituents in the state legislature during the session of 1891.

Today the flag which floats over the city hall is lowered to express the respect and sorrow of the people of a whole city at the loss of a distinguished citizen. For he was distinguished not only in his public career but in private life. In his geniality, his broad and manly character and his devotion to his family. He leaves a devoted wife and two children to mourn the loss of a husband and a father's love and protection. The funeral will take place at the Methodist church on Sunday at 10 o'clock, under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity of which the deceased was a prominent member. Rev. Dr. Forbes will officiate.

In view of Mr. Boyd's prominence in the development of West Duluth, ex-Mayor Martin has issued the following call for a public meeting to take appropriate action regarding his demise:

"To the public: Our true citizen John D. Boyd died last evening at his home at West Duluth. He was a prominent man, and his demise is a loss to our city. In business he was fair and square; in his social life he was active, open and candid. His social nature was the most congenial. To his friends he was always true; to his opponents in political matters, he was antagonistic but honorable. He had no real enemies. He was a brilliant man; a kind and loving husband and father and a good neighbor. Mr. Boyd has figured largely in the development of that part of our city known as West Duluth. He was president of that municipality in 1891. It is but meet that the citizens of West Duluth, and especially those who have taken part in the affairs of that village, should take the necessary steps and make arrangements to pay their respects to Mr. Boyd's memory, and accordingly the undersigned would like to meet all citizens at the village hall, at West Duluth, Saturday, Feb. 24, at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of adopting proper resolutions and making arrangements for the attendance at the funeral which will be held Sunday morning."

Crushed His Foot.
Victor Erickson, of the fire department, had his foot badly crushed yesterday afternoon. He was taking a barrel of kerosene into the basement of the city hall when he accidentally slipped and fell to the foot of the stairs. The barrel followed and his foot was caught between it and the lower step. He will be laid up for some time.

West Duluth Briefs.
Company G has changed the date of its minstrel entertainment from March 2 to March 1.

Gotwald & Hanna have decided to make the frontage of the block they propose to erect, fifty feet.

Chiefs Horgan and Jackson came up yesterday to look over the repairs at the city hall.

J. A. Wallace, of Thomson, is a guest of his nephew H. B. Wallace.

J. K. Wilson, of Barabon, Wis., is in the city on business.

Victor Paradise returned yesterday from Grand Rapids.

Charles Carish returned yesterday from La Crosse.

There will be a special communication of Euclid Lodge A. F. & A. M. on Saturday evening at 7:30. All members and visiting brethren are requested to be present. By order,

GEORGE WRIGHT, W. M.

W. H. BERCH, Secretary.

WHEAT WAS HIGHER TODAY.

The Market Was Nervous But Prices Were on the Boom.

The wheat market here today was nervous and fluctuating but booming. It was an ideal market for the seller. There was considerable activity in May, and the July future was not neglected. LARGEST CIRCULATION IN DULUTH.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF ST. LOUIS COUNTY.

Entered at the postoffice at Duluth, Minn., as second-class mail matter.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.,
Feb. 23.—Light snows have fallen over Lakes Huron, Erie and eastern Lake Superior; elsewhere the weather is generally fair.
The temperature has fallen 10 to 20 degrees in the upper Missouri and over Mississippi valleys and the western portion of the lake region.

The center of the area of high pressure, which has dominated the weather of western states, the central valleys and lake regions since Tuesday, has moved northward to Manitoba.

Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today,
9 degrees below zero; maximum 13 degrees above; minimum 9 degrees below zero.

DULUTH, Feb. 23.—Local forecast until 8 p. m.
tomorrow: Fair; somewhat cooler this evening;
a slight rain in temperature by Saturday evening; northwest winds becoming easterly.
Local Forecast Office.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Forecast till 8 p. m.
tomorrow: For Wisconsin: Fair, continued low temperatures; northerly winds becoming variable. For Minnesota: Fair; rising temperature Saturday; variable winds.

The Harbor Appropriation.

The action of the rivers and harbors committee of the house in cutting down
the appropriation for Duluth and Superior harbors to a total of $75,000 is not only a specimen of the worst kind of parsimony but evidence of the indifference of the committee towards making provision for the great growth of the lake traffic and continuing the harbor improvements here so that it can be handled. This improvement will not benefit Duluth alone. Its effects will be felt by every person living in the section of the Northwest to which Duluth is the gateway. Improved facilities for lake transportation will mean reduced freight charges. Wheat can be carried from Duluth to Buffalo at lower cost. Thus will the Northwestern farmer be benefited. Goods from the East which the merchants, farmers and workingmen of the Northwest require can be brought here at reduced cost to the consumer.

Capt. McDougall and other representatives from the head of the lakes, as well as Congressmen Baldwin and Haugen, have explained these facts to the committee. They have deluged them with statistical information regarding the great amount of freight handled here. Therefore the committee cannot be excused on the ground of ignorance of what is required here. As Congressman Haugen well said, an appropriation of only $75,000 would be money virtually thrown away. Its expenditure would accomplish nothing of a permanent character. It would be literally throwing the government's money into the harbor, without the hope of any return.
Messrs. Baldwin and Haugen were benefited by the committee today urging a larger appropriation, and it is hoped that they will be able to pound some common sense into the obtuse heads of the committee.

In this connection, it is astonishing to read that congress has been presented with resolutions adopted by the "business men's associations" of Bayfield and Washburn, protesting against any appropriations for harbor improvements at Duluth or Superior. They say they are not asking for any appropriations for themselves, as they already have good harbors, therefore Duluth and Superior should get nothing. Duluth and Superior would be ashamed did they contain within their limits business men possessing such a contemptible spirit as is manifested in these resolutions. Such broad-gauged "business men" as apparently constitute the little commercial circles at Bayfield and Washburn will be certain to build those diminutive communities into gigantic cities.

They talk about having good harbors!
Why Duluth and Superior now have better harbors than are found at Bayfield and Washburn, and if they had no more tonnage than annually visits those two ill-fated, narrow-minded bays, it would not be necessary to increase their harbor facilities during the next century.
The fact is that the lake traffic which must be handled at Duluth and Superior has now reached such large proportions that even the present fine harbor facilities are inadequate to accommodate it.
Bayfield and Washburn started years ago on even terms with Duluth and Superior. If they have such fine harbors as they assert, why are they not doing the immense business that centers here?
For the simple reason that they have not the location, and had they each a harbor of double the capacity of the finest harbor in the world, they could not secure the business that annually seeks Duluth and Superior in increasing volume.

Keep Cool.

"Professor" W. T. Foster, the St. Joe
"weather prophet" has forwarded to The Herald a prediction that one of the severe storm periods of recent years will prevail over the United States and Canada from March 7 to April 13. In many parts of the country usually heavy rains or snows will fall and floods may be expected. Seven principal low barometers will cross the continent from West to East during the period. Tornadoes may be expected in those parts frequented by these destroyers. Temperature will go to great extremes and frost will damage early crops far southward. Electric storms will precede and severe cold waves follow some of these lows. Those crossing the continent March 7 to 11, 12 to 16, 18 to 24, 25 to 28 and April 4 to 8 should be carefully watched. This is what the "professor" predicts, but no one should be unduly alarmed. Weather prophets' predictions like dreams usually are to be interpreted exactly contrary to what they say.

Minnesota's School Fund.

The great benefits which the state is deriving from development of the iron lands in St. Louis county are shown by statements published in the St. Paul papers regarding the revenue received from leases, royalties, etc. The prospect is that, owing to the large amounts received from this source, within a few years Minnesota will have a larger school fund than any other state in the Union. It is probable that this point will be reached before the next census is taken.

The school fund is derived from the sale of stumpage on state school lands,
from the fees of mineral leases and contracts and from the royalty of 25 cents per ton on iron ore mined on state lands.
The permanent school fund now holds securities amounting in the aggregate to $3,611,495 in bonds bearing from 3 to 5 per cent interest, and in addition there were land contracts amounting to $6,500, 000. Since that time there has been paid into the fund $31,329.90 as royalty on iron ore mined on state land, and by the end of the present fiscal year the fund will not fall short of $1,000,000.

It is estimated that in ten years' time
this school fund will have increased to $25,000,000, judging by the present rate of increase of revenue derived from the royalty of 25 cents per ton paid on iron ore mined on state lands. In 1890 the revenue from this source was $83,900. In 1891 it was $111,635. In 1892 it was $187, 000. In 1893 it was about $400,000. The output of ore may be twice as great this year, 1894, as it was in 1893, and in 1895 there will undoubtedly be a large increase over 1894. To the revenue from the royalty on ore must be added
the revenue from the sale of stumpage, etc.

A compilation made in the state treasurer's office shows that the total amount of land passed by the legislature of 1889, or rather that portion of it providing for the leasing of state lands, 1963 exploration or prospecting leases have been issued by the land office. As each of these costs $25, the total amount so received by the state amounts to $49,575.
Of this number of leases, 331 contracts for fifty years for mining on a royalty, as provided in the same law, have been issued, and as each of these costs the applicant a fee of $100, the amount accru-ing to the state treasury from this source has been $33,100. Lease and contract fees together have footed up to a total of $82,675.

But not all of this has gone to the permanent school or university fund, as under the law the receipts from these sources are to be credited to the permanent fund of the class to which the lands properly belong. Therefore, of this amount, $82,675, received from leases
and contracts, the permanent school fund has received $5,663,500, the permanent university fund $15,800 and the internal improvement fund $46,250. The general fund, which is the fund available for general use, among other things includes the interest upon the permanent fund.

When it comes to fighting for what he conceives to be his legal rights, Frederick S. Heiser is a stayer. His suit against the city of New York for damages to property in an uptown district caused by changing a street grade, has been in court some twenty-five years. It has been twice before the court of appeals and three times before the general term. The latter has just allowed Heiser $5000, the exact amount of damages awarded him by the assessors years ago.
He wants $126,000, and will now take another appeal to the court of appeals.
Duluth America says that by the time he gets through fighting he will have spent a fortune. Whether he will ever get a verdict to offset his expenditures is a subject for guesswork.

W. B. Banks, Francis B. Clark, C. C.
Tennis, James Bardon and a few other large operators in wheat and wind-in-Superior are trying to revive the corpse of the board of trade across the bay that died of inanition several months ago.
They are again going to build up a board that will excel the Duluth board—in their minds. However, the movement is encouraging, because it is the first sign of life that Superior has shown this winter.

It is reported that certain very wealthy capitalists are talking of investing $50-000,000 in that wild and ancient scheme for digging a canal across Southern Michigan to connect Lakes Michigan and Erie, with the idea that it would shorten the time of vessel passages between Chicago and Buffalo. The Detroit News expresses the opinion that the capitalist who can be made to believe it could be lured into an improvement of the canals of the planet Mars.

The City band is to give its first free public concert at the Bethel next Friday evening, in pursuance of its agreement with the common council in return for a monthly grant. There will no doubt be a large attendance, as the people of Duluth are proud of this band and are pleased that the council has extended assistance that will ensure its continuance at the high standard which Professor Meier has adopted.

The St. Cloud Times says: "It is decidedly peculiar, yet it is true, that Duluth has let up on the free iron ore cry
since Rockefeller raked into his grab bag all the Mesabi iron mines." There is no peculiarity about the Times' statement, because it is untrue. Duluth has not quit in its fight against free iron ore.
It is in the position of a litigant whose case has been presented and who is waiting for the verdict of the jury. In this case the senate is the jury. From that body there lies an appeal to the whole nation. Duluth is not afraid of the result of such an appeal.

A protest from Superior against granting a bridge franchise to the Duluth-Superior Bridge company has been presented to congress. The protest is signed by R. J. Wemyss, H. H. Grace, W. R. Fanning, the county board and 150 others. This protest will no doubt have weight with the congressional committee.

Ex-Speaker Lee thinks the Duluth
Republicans have too many candidates for state offices and congress. Never mind about that. Their numbers will be greatly reduced after the primary causes are held here next summer.

The Trust Laws.
Toledo Commercial: The New York World intimates that President Cleveland has been advised by the trust lawyer at the head of the department of justice refuses to enforce the law against the trusts. Either the World or Mr.
Cleveland must be joking. When the president appointed a trust lawyer attorney general of the United States he must have known that the trust laws were trusts would not be enforced. The people believe that Olney was appointed so that the trust conspiracies might continue unimpeded. The president at any moment can remove this trust lawyer
from the head of the department of justice. If he does not do so it must become perfectly clear to the people that the law is not to be enforced. The trust and all other fair minded Democratic papers that do not want the law against the trust conspiracies enforced.

Sufficient Qualifications.
St. Cloud Times: While there is a little delay, there can be no doubt that Bede's construction is the best and honestest—that's enough.

Merely Human Nature.
Boston Herald: Brother Savage's observation that the newspapers do not notice a good man's conduct, but that if he does something wrong it is brutal over the world, is a very true one. There but, this is not a peculiarity of the press. It is a common failing of humanity. The greatest commentator on human nature that ever lived remarks
that the evil that men do live after them;
the good is oft interred with their bones;
the good is uttered some time before newspapers were invented.

Raging Lions Cowed.
New York Herald: Three of the Numidian lions broke jail at Topeka the other day and announced their intention of cleaning out the town. They put a few dozen steers out of the way, and were just getting warmed to their work when they came in front of a hall where a Populist meeting was in session. The hubbub made them thoroughly cowed. They went and got down on their knees, exactly as the lions of the legends used to do, and the police had to take them back to the menagerie in an ambulance.
They seem to have been a pretty tough lot of lions, but they drew the line at Kansas Populists.

Bede's Industry.
Chicago Herald: J. Adam Bede and his brother have continued to cause great hilarity among the Eastern editors, who do not appreciate the privations of a Minnesota country journalist. It is a tribute to Mr. Bede's industry and frugality that he is able to wear pants of any kind. Most of his contemporaries eschew them altogether.

A Good Living For All.
West Duluth Sun: Could the advantages offered be utilized there would be no hungry people in this country.
Every man cannot become a farm owner,
but there would be less destitution if there was less of the rich soil lying idle and unproductive.

They Have Arrived.
There is valuable information as well as attractive art in "The Marie Burroughs Art Portfolio of St. Joe Celebrities," which is procurable in Duluth only by the readers of The Evening Herald.
Besides elegantly executed photographs of the leading lights of comedy, drama,
and light opera, melodrama, farce comedy, etc., there is a concise, but carefully written and accurate sketch of the artistic career of each of these stars.
No more beautiful collection of portraits
has ever been offered, and the photo-

FIGHT AGAINST DORAN'S.

Maj. Baldwin is Now Heading the Anti-Boss Procession.

A special dispatch from Washington to the Minneapolis Times says: The issue against Doran's bossism in Minnesota politics is to be sharply drawn in a short time. Congressman Baldwin has made a formal protest to the president against Doran's bossism. It is understood that Doran is coming to Washington to look after Doran. Present prospects are not that there will be a lively scene with the president, as other pressure besides that from Baldwin is being brought to bear to check Doran's bossism, and the matter has been brought to the president's attention
as such a forcible way that he can no longer avoid taking cognizance of it.

Doran's persistence in insisting upon the appointment of his candidate, Brunner, for receiver of the St. Cloud land office, has precipitated the crisis. Resulting against his general bossism has been steadily growing, however,
until it has finally assumed proportions
that makes the situation a matter of importance. By sincerely meaning to the situation occurred within the past two days when Mr. Baldwin placed on file at the interior department a document signed by many leading Democrats of St. Cloud county objecting to Doran's interference in the St. Cloud office, and opposing Brunner's candidacy.
Commenting editorially on the above,
the Times says: "It is refreshing to find a leading Democrat in office who has the courage to stand by his convictions and express his opinions in defiance of both boss and mob rule. What the Democrats of Minnesota want is courage and sincerity. By sincerely meaning to
the situation occurred within the past
two days when Mr. Baldwin placed on file at the interior department a document signed by many leading Demo-

TWO WOMEN ADOPTED

Scottish Rite Masons Receive Mrs. T. W. Hugo and Mrs. W. E. Richardson Under the Rite of Adoption.

This is a Power Which Has Never Been Exercised by Any Other Lodge In This State.

G. W. Buck and S. L. Frazer Receive Notice of Election to the Supreme Council, A High Honor.

The Scottish Rite masons of Duluth have taken the initiative in a step which has never before been exercised by any lodge in the state and perhaps in many states. Under the old rite of adoption they have adopted two ladies into the order. Those honored with the selection were Mrs. T. W. Hugo and Mrs. W. E. Richardson. This rite was quite frequently used in France in the eighteenth century, one of the most prominent of the ladies receiving it being the Empress Josephine. Many other French women famous in history, such as Madame de Stael and others received the distinction. The lodges have always had the power to exercise this right of adoption, together with all the rituals, but have not used it. Those honored with the choice are always wives of Masons and are selected in recognition of special services in behalf of the order. These two in turn are allowed to select a third and the three another and so on as far as they consider the lodge worthy of such recognition. It is believed that this will result in an increase of interest among the wives of Masons and will greatly advance the interests of the order. They are privileged to wear the apron at any and all exercises of the order. This choice was made known at the open meeting of the Scottish Rite Masons last evening.

The ladies in turn had a surprise. A beautiful silk was, on behalf of the wives of the Masons, presented to the order by Mrs. T. W. Hugo. Verbal Master T. W. Hugo received the flag and appropriately expressed the thanks of the order. Each lady was then presented with a small gift with a badge of the thirty-second degree.

Surprises were the order of the evening and the next came to Messrs. G. W. Buck and S. L. Frazer. They received notice of their election as knights, commander of the court of honor, a degree highly honorary and greatly prized by every Mason. At certain times each lodge by secret ballot chooses two of its members for this honor, the ballot is sent to the supreme council and the result is made known. The honor is one which is always bestowed in recognition of zeal and interest in the advancement of the order. Only Masons who have received this honor are eligible to the thirty-third degree. Messrs. Buck and Frazer were presented with a badge of the thirty-third degree.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Marco Matavich, the Tower Young Man, Arraigned This Morning.

In police court this morning, Charles Horton and Joe King stood before Judge Winje charged with murder. His honor "handed" a couple of blows with the strong right arm of justice and when the culprits regained their senses, they were on their way to jail for a term of ten days.

Marco Matavich, the boy who hit a fellow Austrian on the head with a shovel and killed him at Tower, the other day, was arraigned on the charge of murder in the first degree. The examination was set for 2 p. m., Feb. 27, and the accused committed until that date.

TO DYE A FAST BLACK.

ANY WOMAN CAN GET A RICH COLOR THAT WILL NOT FADE.

Three Special Diamond Dyes for Black—Home Dyeing a Pleasure With Them—Save Expense and Delay of Sending Goods to the Dyer—A New Dress for Ten Cents.

The fast black diamond dyes have saved thousands of dollars to thrifty housewives. There are three of them: for cotton, for wool, and for silk and feathers—and they have all made to look like new money a cloak, suit, dress, jacket, or feather that would otherwise have gone into the rag bag.

Good colored with these dyes will not crack or fade, and are fully equal in beauty to the work of the best professional dyer.

The color will not wash out in soaps and sunlight will not fade it. A to cent package colors from one-half to two pounds, according to the original color of the goods. Plain and explicit directions on the package make it easy for the most experienced to dye successfully with diamond dyes, thus saving the delay and expense of sending goods to the dye house.

All the standard and fashionable colors are easily made with diamond dyes and a new dress for 10 cents is often the result of their use.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Sport McAllister."

"Sport McAllister" is growing to be a chestnut with Duluth theatergoers and it was principally the impression that there was a fine lot of specialties in the show that drew the fairly good audience in the evening. There is no more natural Irish comedian today than Bobby Gordon, but his play has become time-worn. It has been in Duluth no less than three times, and although it has many merits which place it far above the average farce comedy, it is time there was a change.

The company is a good one. Dagmar and Decelle, the Danish warblers, are most popular and received many recalls. Patricia, the clever and witty Campbell sang well. The Griffith sisters are not marvels of grace, but there is not much chance to exhibit grace of action in a high kicking dance. O'Brien and Carroll's sidewalk witticisms, so called for want of any other name, might better be omitted. Arthur O'Brien made a good McGillicuddy, sport's political opponent, and Joe Kelly was clever as Kyskes, the life insurance hustler.

Carlton Opera Company. Tonight the Carlton Opera company opens its engagements at the Temple in "Chimes of Normandy." This company is said to be the best that Mr. Carlton has ever controlled, many favorites of past seasons being retained in the ranks of the present organization as well as new aspirants for public favor, who possess undoubted ability as singers and actors. The company is particularly well spoken of and the costumes are of unusual care. Tomorrow afternoon the company will sing "Mikado" and in the evening "Nanon."

FIRST BAND CONCERT.

City Band to Play Next Friday Evening at the Bethel.

On Friday next, March 2, the City band, under the direction of Professor Ernest Meier, will give the first concert at the Bethel. At the time the concert allowed the band an opportunity to play in front of the city of the unsanitary sea. A number of prominent people would be present before the work is completed. Asked if he would be a candidate for the congressional nomination, Mr. Lee said that it is giving universal satisfaction throughout the northern part of the state, and added that he thought a number of prominent people would be present before the work is completed.

A MONTH OF WINDS.

Outlook for March According to Weather Service Reports.

March is a windy month and will soon be with us. The record for twenty-three years shows the highest velocity reached by the wind on a March day as sixty-two miles on March 10, 1878. The prevailing direction has been from the north, the warmest being 39 degrees in 1878 and the coldest 15 degrees. The warmest March day was March 23, in 1889, when the thermometer rose to 41 degrees, and the coldest 25 degrees below on March 20, in 1875. The average precipitation for the month has been 4.16 inches, and the greatest amount of snow fall in any consecutive twenty-four hours was twelve inches on March 7, in 1874. The average number of cloudless days was 11; partly cloudy, 11, and cloudy, 9.

SIXTH DISTRICT POLITICS.

Ex-Speaker Lee Thinks Duluth Has Too Many Candidates.

Hon. W. E. Lee, of Long Prairie, ex-speaker of the house of representatives, was seen by a reporter at the Merchants Hotel in St. Paul Wednesday evening. In regard to the work accomplished by the pine land investigating committee, Mr. Lee said that it is giving universal satisfaction throughout the northern part of the state, and added that he thought a number of prominent people would be present before the work is completed.

Asked if he would be a candidate for the congressional nomination, Mr. Lee said that it is giving universal satisfaction throughout the northern part of the state, and added that he thought a number of prominent people would be present before the work is completed.

Bethel Boys' Club.

A very successful concert in connection with the boys' club was held in the Bethel on Wednesday evening. Upwards of fifty boys were present. Addresses were given by Rev. Mr. Salter and Henry Haskins, and an entertainment by members of the Bohemian club. The course will be given monthly in the V. M. C. A. hall and the course tickets are now ready.

Duluth Polo Team Victorious. The Duluth polo team was again victorious over Superior yesterday and with the odds in favor of the Superior team. The wind was blowing heavily and the Duluth boys had to play against it. The Superior winning the toss. Notwithstanding this the ball was kept in Superior's territory all the time and a goal was scored by the Duluths in seventeen minutes. From then on the boys played the defensive and no more goals were scored.

An Important Difference. To make it apparent to thousands, who think that they are ill, that they are not affected with any disease, but that the system simply needs cleansing, is to bring comfort home to their hearts, as a comfortable condition is any cure by using Syrup of Figs. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup company.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure it, led to the belief that it was constitutional. Now, however, we have a constitutional treatment, and therefore require a constitutional remedy. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from one drop to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer $100 for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: E. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

NEARING THE CLOSE

Tonight Will Decide Which Rink Shall Have the Honor to Hold the Merriam Medal.

At Noon Today it Was Narrowed Down To Three Rinks, One Being a Duluth Rink.

First Draw and a Portion of the Second Has Been Curled in the Glen Avon Match.

The curling continued at the Glen Avon rink yesterday afternoon and evening and began again at 9:30 o'clock this morning. There was a good crowd in attendance yesterday afternoon and evening and enthusiasm ran high, for there was some fine curling. It was a happy and jolly crowd, too, and the curlers were singing, dancing and cutting capers all the time. The Duluth rinks are doing better than expected and stand a good chance of getting the Merriam medal, although it will be a hard battle.

Yesterday afternoon John MacLeod's rink curled against A. McCulloch's, of St. Paul, with the following result:

Duluth—A. P. Wilson, Dr. Kelly, Dr. J. H. Smith, Dr. Quinn, Dr. G. H. Smith, Dr. Quinn, Dr. G. H. Smith, Dr. Quinn.

St. Paul—A. P. Wilson, Dr. Kelly, Dr. J. H. Smith, Dr. Quinn, Dr. G. H. Smith, Dr. Quinn.

The second draw in the Merriam medal contest was also curled. It resulted as follows:

Duluth—A. P. Wilson, Dr. Kelly, Dr. J. H. Smith, Dr. Quinn, Dr. G. H. Smith, Dr. Quinn.

St. Paul—A. P. Wilson, Dr. Kelly, Dr. J. H. Smith, Dr. Quinn, Dr. G. H. Smith, Dr. Quinn.

Another contest was played off this morning in the third draw, for the Merriam medal. Donald MacLeod played against Tom Scott, resulting as follows:

Duluth—A. P. Wilson, Dr. Kelly, Dr. J. H. Smith, Dr. Quinn, Dr. G. H. Smith, Dr. Quinn.

St. Paul—A. P. Wilson, Dr. Kelly, Dr. J. H. Smith, Dr. Quinn, Dr. G. H. Smith, Dr. Quinn.

Another match will be played today between R. J. MacLeod, of Duluth, and Alex McCulloch, of St. Paul, and then will come the final struggle between the winning rink and Tom Scott's rink. This will probably be played tonight.

The Glen Avon Match.

The first draw in the Glen Avon match was curled last evening and the scores were as follows:

Duluth—A. P. Wilson, Dr. Kelly, Dr. J. H. Smith, Dr. Quinn, Dr. G. H. Smith, Dr. Quinn.

St. Paul—A. P. Wilson, Dr. Kelly, Dr. J. H. Smith, Dr. Quinn, Dr. G. H. Smith, Dr. Quinn.

City Gets a Large Verdict Against the Street Railway.

The city as substituted plaintiff in the case of the village of West Duluth against the Duluth Street Railway company got a verdict this morning against the Duluth Street Railway company for $42,722. The case has attracted considerable attention. Under the provisions of the village ordinance permitting the Duluth Street Railway company to build a track and run cars in the village streets, the company is required to pay 6 cents per lineal foot to defray extra cost of paving along the rails.

The village did this work on Oneida street, and the company refused to pay the required extra expense. Another matter of extra expense for which the company was to pay according to the provisions of the ordinance was for paving between the rails. A third claim, one provided for by the ordinance, was an average daily car tax of $10 a year. There were run on an average in 1892 twenty cars, and this tax claim therefore amounted to $200. The entire claim made was $669.28. As a defense the railway company maintained that it was operating under a special of the legislature of 1881, and that the village ordinance was not binding in the least.

The case of Robert W. Armstrong against the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company came up before Judge Moer this morning. Armstrong wants $10,000 for injuries received by his head being knocked off the pilot of one of the company's engines at Biwabik. He was employed at switching and had just stepped onto the footboard. A staking pole lay across the pilot and to keep it over out of the way, just as he did so the pole struck a stock gate on the other side, flew forward and hit him on the side of the head, cutting it badly. The claim is made that the staking pole was too long.

Before Judge Lewis the last criminal case was finished this morning and given to the jury, that of James Wells, charged with robbing Malcolm McKee in a West Duluth saloon of a pocketbook containing $25 bill and $11 in silver.

The jury in the case of Joseph Minor, charged with indecent assault, disagreed.

HEAVY BRITISH LOSS

A Detachment of British Sailors and Soldiers Surprised by a Slave Raiding Band in Africa.

After a Very Stubborn Fight They Compelled to Retreat With Heavy Loss.

Free British Officers and Ten Men Killed and Forty-seven Wounded in the Fight.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Advices from Bathurst, the capital of the colony of Gambia, West Africa, state that a detachment of sailors from the British warships Raleigh and Wigdon, supported by the West India regiment, landed for the purpose of attacking a slave raiding band under Chief Fodilash. It is reported at Bathurst that the British sailors and soldiers were surprised and after making a stubborn fight were compelled to retreat with a heavy loss.

This seems to confirm the somewhat uncertain statements contained in the telegram received by the wife of the paymaster of H. M. S. Wigdon yesterday that a British force on the West African coast had met with disaster. The admiralty office has received a dispatch from Bathurst announcing the return of the expedition sent out to attack Chief Fodilash. The report of the expedition says that serious opposition was encountered from the outset. Almost at the beginning of the march the native carriers became unruly and many of them deserted at the first opportunity. This caused great loss of carrying capacity for ammunition, water, provisions, etc., and necessarily much of the stores had to be left behind.

The expedition succeeded in capturing two stockaded villages from Fodilash and in these the soldiers and sailors remained over night. The next morning it was decided to return to the boats. The party had scarcely got in motion when it was attacked on all sides by Fodilash's men. In the ensuing fight three officers and ten men were killed and forty-two wounded.

AN AGGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN.
Republicans Getting Ready for the Congressional Elections.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Representative Caldwell, of Ohio, the chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, says that the committee is preparing for an aggressive campaign. The work will not begin in good earnest until later in the month, but the ground plan is now being prepared.

The contest for the control of the next house, Mr. Caldwell says, will be made with the tariff as the issue. "There is no doubt in my mind," said he, "that we shall be victorious. The tide is running in favor of the Republicans and we are preparing to make the most of the favorable conditions."

"By what majority do you expect to control the next house?"

"I can't say. I have made no calculations as yet, but it will be by a good working majority."

"It is to be a campaign of education?"

"That is just it; campaign of education. The people have been misled by the tariff question and we purpose giving it to them. We are now collecting all the good speeches made by our party leaders in the house and are preparing to issue them in pamphlet form."

"We shall make a similar collection of the tariff speeches that will be delivered by the Republicans in the senate. These we shall send broadcast in every district where they will do the most good."

THE INSURGENTS VICTORIOUS.

Another Victory by the Brazilian Rebels Over Peixoto.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—The Herald's Montevideo special says: The Herald correspondent in Santos sends word that it is expected that the city will be in possession of the insurgents before the end of the week. There is great excitement in the city.

The streets are filled with soldiers and citizens are in terror. The insurgent forces here have won another victory. The loyal troops were defeated by the federalists two days ago near Poixima, on the road from Stanare to Sao Paulo.

Nearly every man in Peixoto's battalion was wounded. During the fight the national police deserted Peixoto and joined the rebels in a body.

Publisher Murrell Ill.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Norman L. Munro, the publisher and yachtsman, is recovering from an operation for appendicitis performed yesterday at his apartments in the Hoffman house. His condition is critical but the surgeons express confidence in his recovery on account of his splendid physique. Mr. Munro's 11-year-old child was subjected to the same operation last Sunday and is now progressing favorably.

Severe Cold in New York.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Feb. 24.—The mercury registered 2 to 25 degrees below zero here at different points this morning. At North Creek it was 32 degrees below.

CANAJOHATIE, N. Y., Feb. 24.—Last night was the coldest of the season. The thermometer registered 17 degrees below zero here and 22 below at Sharon Springs. The country roads are blocked with drifted snow.

One Man Instantly Killed.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Feb. 24.—Eight members of the crew of a Huntingdon coal train were crushed into by a section of heavily loaded coal cars yesterday. William Sneath, one of the crew, was instantly killed. Conductor John Myers and Samuel D. Watley badly injured.

JACKSON AND CORBET.

The Fight Not Unlikely to Be Prolonged in England.

BUFFALO, Feb. 24.—Parson Davies, manager of Peter Jackson, came here from Toronto last night and will proceed to New York to confer with Manager Brady in regard to settling upon some place to hold the fight, which is scheduled for some time in June. Davies yesterday received a cablegram from Lord Lansdale, of the National club, stating he would at once ascertain what could be done toward securing the Corbett-Jackson fight for London.

Mr. Davies also received a message from Chairman Agnew, of the Mount Clemens company, representing the syndicate that is trying to have the fight pulled off in the great Michigan resort for rheumatic sufferers. The Michigan people have offered to hang up a purse of $5,000 and also to post a guarantee of $100,000.

The Michigan people have offered to hang up a purse of $5,000 and also to post a guarantee of $100,000.

Davies declares that he is as much in the dark as anyone in regard to what will be the outcome of the fighting, but is rather inclined to think that the battle may go to England after all.

Mr. Davies says, is all right and eager for the fight. He is in no condition at present to fight, but he is all ready to begin training. The stories that have been circulated about his illness are all wrong, as he is as well as any man can be who is traveling about the country as he is.

He is troubled with no lung disease, and though he has a cold, he is in general good health.

A TARIFF ON IRON ORE.

The Senate Bill Will Place an Ad Valorem Duty of Twenty Per Cent on Iron Ore.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The tariff bill is practically completed and will be laid before the full committee on finance at a special meeting to be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The committee has yielded as much as it believes it can, and the disposition of the members is to go no farther in the direction of concessions. The coal people have, perhaps, gained most of what they wanted.

Iron ore will be protected by an ad valorem duty of not less than 20 per cent and it is by no means settled that wool will be on the free list.

Lumber is to be taken care of in consideration of votes from a united party. Sugar will have a duty of about 1 cent a pound. Both white lead and lead ore are on the free list.

CHARGES AGAINST WIMAN.

Mr. Dun Tells Why He Delayed Taking Any Action.

PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 24.—R. G. Dun, president of the Mercantile Association, arrived at Pasadena about a week ago and is quartered at Rose cottage, Raymond hotel, with his wife. When questioned yesterday with regard to the arrest of Erasmus Wiman, he stated that the report sent out from New York was entirely correct.

Wiman's pecuniary condition was known, Mr. Dun said, before his connection with the mercantile agency was severed. When questioned as to why he delayed taking any action on the part of the agency officials, this was in February, 1893.

When questioned as to why action in the case had been so long delayed, Mr. Dun said it was largely on account of Wiman's wife and relatives. With reference to the circular published and industriously circulated about a month ago by some person unknown, in which were several facts in regard to mercantile agencies and their methods of doing business, Mr. Dun said he did not attribute its authorship to Wiman, nor did he have the slightest bearing on pushing the case against him. He, however, thought that Wiman had given the author some valuable suggestions.

"The matter," said Mr. Dun, "was put into the hands of our attorney a year ago. As before stated, action was taken on the circular published and industriously circulated about a month ago by some person unknown, in which were several facts in regard to mercantile agencies and their methods of doing business, Mr. Dun said he did not attribute its authorship to Wiman, nor did he have the slightest bearing on pushing the case against him. ANOTHER WORLD'S FAIR FIRE.

The Dome of the Agricultural Building Completely Destroyed.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—The graceful dome of the agricultural building, World's fair grounds, was completely destroyed by fire this morning. Shortly before 8 o'clock a guard on passing the south face of the building saw smoke and flame curling about the outside pillars near the point at which previous fires had started.

A first and second alarm was turned in, but the flames running up the outside of the pillars, gained such headway in the roof that the destruction of the dome was a matter of short order. Breaking through the roof and on the inside, burning embers soon began dropping to the floor and the supports gradually weakened, at last gave way, carrying with it parts of the roof, the dome tumbled and pitched in ruins to the floor. Its fall practically put an end to the firemen's work.

The dome of the building, the already partially ruined building an even more unsightly object, and it now bears little resemblance to the original structure. The dome was removed from the building and placed in the Columbian museum. All the exhibits that had been removed from the building and the monetary loss will be practically nothing.

TO THE GALLOWS

Patrick Eugene Prendergast, the Cowardly Assassin of Mayor Harrison, of Chicago, Sentenced Today.

Judge Brentano Decreed That the Murderer Shall be Hanged in the Jail on March 23.

Unless the Supreme Court Should Interfere, Prendergast and 'Buff' Higgins Will be Hanged Together.

Prendergast Made a Long, Rambling Talk to the Court Before the Sentence Was Pronounced.

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Prendergast, who assassinated Mayor Carter Harrison at his home on the evening of Oct. 28 last, was denied a new trial by Judge Brentano this morning and was sentenced to be hanged on Friday, March 23. On that day also Thomas "Buff" Higgins will also suffer the penalty of murder, and unless the supreme court interferes, Prendergast and Higgins will march to the gallows together and drop through the trap at the same instant.

The court room was comfortably filled when the judge read his exhaustive and learned decision. Prendergast appeared indifferent for a time, but as the reading proceeded pricked up his ears and appeared ready to make one of his old time scenes. In passing sentence upon the prisoner, Judge Brentano said: "You have had a fair and impartial trial, and you have been defended by counsel whose zeal and devotion in your behalf merit the highest praise and compel the admiration of the court. Despite all this you have been found guilty in accordance with the well established principles of law and evidence governing trials of this kind."

"Possibly a large part of this community would, for the sake of the reputation of this great city, upon whom the eyes of the world are turned, have been comforted if the verdict of the jury had been that you were innocent. The jury has found that when you committed the act you fully understood its consequences, and that you might have controlled your actions if you had so willed, and that your own misguided will was the sole impulse to the commission of the deed."

The judge sentenced Prendergast to be hanged between the hours of 10 o'clock in the forenoon and 2 o'clock in the afternoon of March 23, A. D. 1894. Another case was on trial when the prisoner was brought into court and he was given a seat in the trial box until the jury had retired. The murderer presented a pitiable appearance, although it was evident that he was endeavoring to maintain an air of bravado. His breath came in short pants, his fingers twitched nervously and he kept up an incessant swaying of his lower limbs, ever and anon grinding his teeth and scowling at the throng that packed the courtroom.

When the jury in the case on trial had retired, Judge Brentano took the seat previously occupied by Judge Freeman, the prisoner was seated in one of the jury chairs with two bailiffs on either side of him and four behind. The decision of Judge Brentano overruling the motion for a new trial was clear cut in style, and when the reading was finished a motion for the arrest of judgment submitted by Attorney Wade, on the ground that the proof did not correspond with the statements in the indictment, was promptly denied.

"Patrick Eugene Prendergast, stand up," said the judge, and the miserable prisoner staggered to his feet. He would have fallen had not one of the bailiffs caught him by the arm and held him until he obtained a firm hold.

A deathlike stillness prevailed in the courtroom as the prisoner drew from the breast pocket a half sheet of note paper covered with penciled memoranda, which had been prepared during the morning in his cell. He had evidently anticipated the ruling of the court on the motion of his counsel, for in his remarks he dwelt upon one or two points made by the court as lucidly as though the decision had been submitted to him in advance. Prefacing his talk with the statement that he was not prepared at that moment to properly respond, he went on in a rambling conversational way.

"I suppose you imagine you have done your duty in denying this motion. This plaintiff," then after a pause he went on to say that it was evident that Murray, one of the jurors, whose bona fides had been attacked, was anxious to become a juror, and that the same was true of another member of the body. Then after repeating the statement that the plea of insanity was not of his own choosing, he glanced around the court room and in a firmer voice continued:

"The question was and is, did I do right or wrong at that particular time? Did I do my duty or did I not? Did I do the will of God or did I not? That question has never been touched. If I did wrong I should be convicted. If I did right I should be justified. So far as concerns the doctors, they came to me without invitation. I did not come and ask them to see me in the jail and say whether I was sane or insane. They say that Harrison was a great and good man. I deny it. A great and good man is generally faithful to his friends, and he was not. Harrison was not such a man. Had he been he would not have shown such hostility to me."

All this was said in a jerky, fragmentary way, the prisoner's voice at times dropping until those at his elbow could scarcely catch his utterances. He went on to say that the defense had been attacked by the newspaper trust and that no doubt the judge and everybody else would all be at its mercy. It would save no man's character, and blackmail and intimidation will thrive in the city. There was another pause and then with an effort Prendergast continued: "Jailer Morris (alluding to the official having charge of the jail) told me: 'will kill you before you leave this jail.' I don't care for judges, lawyers, bailiffs or anyone else. Because the sheriff is a Republican and I am a Democrat in principle, the hostility of himself and his bailiffs and officials is largely accounted for. The principle of the rightfulness or wrongfulness of the act was the issue, but the responsibility rests with the court. If you consent to my death or execution, or killing by due process of law—here his voice fell to a whisper, but he was understood to say, 'you will still keep up the grade crossing killing. I have been charged with being a vainglorious man, a notoriety-seeker. This is not true. It has not been proven. It was charged against Christ when he was tempted on the mount. The jury may think it has done its duty. The fact remains if I hang, their names will be infamous throughout all ages. Did I do my duty or not? Was I right or wrong when the shooting of Carter Harrison took place? The right or wrong still remains to be decided.'"

The prisoner ceased and slowly folded his sheet of notes. The judge looked at him inquiringly. "If the court is ready," was all that Prendergast said, as he rubbed his hands across his forehead and fixed his eyes on one of the empty jury chairs.

The prisoner did not flinch when the day of his death fell from Judge Brentano's lips. Just as the last word of the sentence was spoken, however, he made a half step forward and sawing the air with his arm exclaimed: "May it please the court I do not apologize for the act. I only did what I would do again under similar circumstances. I did my duty." At this point a bailiff seized him by each arm and in another second he was hurried through the door into the county jail. In less than a minute the door of his cell in the murderer's room had clanked behind him.

Prendergast's attorney asked for and was granted thirty days in which to file a bill of exceptions upon which to take the case to the supreme court. The bill of exceptions will probably be filed in ten days.

NO INCREASE IS LIKELY.

The Harbor Appropriation Will Probably Remain at $75,000.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—[Special to The Herald.]—It is considered very doubtful today whether Representatives Baldwin and Haugen will be able to secure an increase over $75,000, decided upon by the river and harbor committee for improvement of harbors at Duluth and Superior.

The committee is doing no business now because of the absence of Chairman Blanchard, who is endeavoring to be appointed senator from Louisiana instead of White. The bill, however, has practically been decided upon and there has been a big cut all along the line.

All of the great lake section is going to suffer by the big cut in the appropriation made from previous bills. There is not an indication that Baldwin and Haugen will be successful in securing anything above $75,000 for Duluth and Superior.

MINNESOTA APPOINTMENTS.

No More to Be Made for Three Weeks at Least.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—[Special to The Herald.]—Neither Representative Baldwin nor Hall has any new information today about additional appointments for Minnesota. They have been unable to get any information from administration officials. It is probable nothing more will be done for Minnesota for three weeks because of the president's absence on his two weeks' jaunt.

Bonilla Routed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—A special from San Salvador to the Herald says: A courier arrived here from Corpus and says that in the battle Thursday the forces under Manuel Bonilla were completely routed, eighty being killed and 150 wounded. The Nicaraguans are greatly discouraged.

Small blaze in Dodge's Addition. Called out the fire department but did no harm.

Mr. and Mrs. James Connerly entertained at Cards Last Evening. Also Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Rockwell.

Hon. J. D. Boyd's funeral to be at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon—Other West Duluth News.

The fire department was called out about 10 o'clock this morning by an alarm sent in from Dodge's addition. The fire proved to be located in one of the houses of the Shearer row near Sixth avenue west and Fourth street north. The blaze caught from an overheated chimney in the rear of the house and was extinguished with a nominal damage.

Two Card Parties.
Mr. and Mrs. James Connerly pleasantly entertained a card party at their home on Third avenue east last evening. The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Rockwell was also the scene of a pleasant gathering last evening. Young friends to the number of twenty surprised them with their company.

TERRIBLE ITCHING

Skin and Scalp. Tried Everything. Used Cuticura. In Three Weeks. Not a Scar or Pimple.

When my baby was three months old his cheeks and forehead began to be covered with little pimples. In a few days itching commenced, which was terrible. After he would rub it, matter would come from his points. In a short time it reached over the top of his head, then came down on his neck and back. We used everything second hand for nearly five months. It grew worse all the time. I saw your advertisement in the Chicago Herald in a Chicago weekly. We purchased Cuticura Remedies and in three weeks time there was not a sign of pimple, not even a scar, on head or face. His nineteen months old now, and has no signs of the disease. His scalp is healthy and he has a beautiful head of hair. (See portrait herewith.)

Mrs. OSCAR JAMES, Woodlawn, Kan.

CUTICURA cured a disease which had three years. My skin was sore and in cold weather my face was a mass of scales. The pain so intense it would bring tears. I tried every remedy with little benefit. The first application CUTICURA gave instant relief. In a few weeks time cured.

AFTER CITY OFFICES

A Host of Perspiring Patriots. Now Crying, "Give Us Office or Give Us Death."

Scores of Citizens Ready to Accept the Positions at the Disposal of the Mayor.

A Partial List of Those Who Are Candidates and Others Who Are Being Mentioned.

Nor far from the front end of this abbreviated month of February a municipal election was held in Duluth. The Republican legion won the day and the alf and alf mixture of Bourbon and Pop went trickling down the sewer of defeat.

As soon as victory was announced the anxious cry of "wonder who'll get the offices" was heard on every hand. Before the smoke of battle had fairly cleared away a host of perspiring patriots were crying, "Give us office or give us death."

One week from next Monday night a new captain will tread the municipal quarter deck and shout commands to the hands below. It is almost certain that most of the d'Auremont crew will be marooned. The struggle of the hour is to secure the empty berth.

The distribution of the plums will fall chiefly upon Capt. Lewis and it is much desired that he get in his work before starting on his twenty cruise. The woods are full of fellows with their lightning rods up. Some are known and some are not, but their name now is legion. Later on, with many, it will be "pains."

The largest permissum to be plucked is the office of city attorney. Any number of fellows think that their gray matter has absorbed enough of the essence of blackstone to enable them to advise one mayor and sixteen aldermen as to what should be advised. O. W. Baldwin, for one, would not refuse a call to draw the $2000 per year attached to the job.

About a year ago, a legal luminary named J. D. Holmes conducted impeachment proceedings against Fire Commissioners Hart and Helinski for the city. He was beaten on every count. The city for several hundred dollars more than was allowed for his services. That impeachment experience was so pleasing that he'd like to try it again. He let legal opinions drizzle out over his whiskers for a while.

W. C. McAdams has a notion that he could construct opinions to suit also does Attorney McPherrin. L. S. but not least, comes he with the flowing mane, Pace Morris. He is a "good looking" during the past campaign and instead of sulking in his tent, early and late gave the warhorse for Lewis and scolded Jewell's supporters until his arm ached.

"I'd like to see Page Morris get that city attorneyship," said one of the boys recently.

"But do you think he could be induced to accept the position?" rejoined a companion.

"Don't you think a duck could be induced to swim?" was the reply.

It is pretty well understood that Mr. Morris would accept, and it is just as well understood that he'll be elected.

The office of the city clerk has always been considered a mighty fat position. No one has been accused of getting more than $3000 a year out of it. Some of the aldermen-elect say that retrenchment is their motto and that they'll see that the city clerk's hands are tied enough to keep his salary down to about $1800 a year.

That position is not without admirers, but of course City Clerk Richardson does not care to retire with one year of service. He says that he is sure of re-election and, apparently, would waver any amount on it. He is a good official when he was appointed one year ago the place was promised him for as long a time as he was honest and attentive to his duties. He has a good official and it is conceded that he has the inside track. Deputy Clerk Austin says that he hardly expects his place for another year.

Right after election there was a great scramble for Dan Horgan's big shoes. Detective Twomey thinks that he would make a handsome chief of police and has a petition for an appointment in circulation. It is said that Bob Benson has loaded up his gun and is ready to take Horgan's job. He will be satisfied to crowd out Tom Hayden and take the position of chief of the city detective force. Ex-Chief Briggs of West Duluth, had up his lightning rod, so the boys say, and at one time George J. Mallory, of West Duluth, was slated for the place, but that is declared to be all moonshine. Some of Tom Clark's ill-wishers accused him of wishing to give up the work of caring for the widows and the fatherless, and being the blue-coated guardians of the peace, but only a few believe it. One man declared that A. C. Hatchelor held a firm idea that he was large enough to fill Horgan's place, but that "Batch" has not peeped to the Herald no definite statement can be made. Sam Thompson, after twenty years of service, would not object a promotion from the captaincy, but it is feared that he "queered" himself when he shaved off his whiskers. E. J. Luther, at West Duluth, who owns thirty-five revolvers, seventeen shotguns and twenty-three rifles, has been mentioned, but he is laying mighty low for a real live candidate.

Ever since the morning after election a clamor has been ascending on high for Harry Armstrong. He has a good place with Sheriff Sharpy and at first it was said that he would not accept, the chiefship. The next report was that he would accept. That he had been slated and that, as a result, W. B. Butcher's strength for the Republican nomination for sheriff had been increased just that much. The latest rumor is that Armstrong wants to make the race for sheriff himself, so the outcome is not a certainty yet. Right here, it may not be out of order to state that several hundred applications for places on the police force have been filed with Capt. Lewis. About 140 have previously filed with Mayor d'Auremont. Many of the applicants never have been able to make a success of even pounding sand in a rat hole.

The board of public works, it has been supposed, would have places for two Lewis supporters. Mayor d'Auremont's action in naming Nils Nilson last Monday night for reappointment may leave only one place open, as it is thought that the council will confirm Nilson's reappointment next Monday evening, unless he refuses to serve longer.

It has been asserted all along that ex-Mayor M. J. Davis would be given President Henry Truelsen's place, and today not a soul denies it. If Nilson stays in, the outlook is pretty scaly for the other patriots. Ex-Alderman C. A. Long, some time ago, expressed a desire to inspect sewers and award city contracts for the next three years. J. W. Rowley is said to feel just like Long and Charles E. Haines, says that in these hard times the $15 a month derived from a position on the board would buy lots of pork and potatoes. He hopes to find an appointment on his doorstep some morning.

West Duluth wants representation and Emil Engle has been pushed forward. He is the man who laid most of Mr. Craig's water mains and would be a valuable man for the city. Fully sixteen men at the West End have expressed a wish for a place but it is thought by quite a number that A. Swordling has been the most seriously considered by Lewis.

If T. W. Abell holds the clerkship of the board of public works, he will have to give up his loins and make the hustle of his life. Not only are certain citizens trying to see him lose his job, but there is no lack of those who want his shoes. The first one to raise his head was Fred Russell. He usually has the pulled strings for the city clerkship, but this year he is less ambitious. Already he has secured some work, figuring out assessments and if he is chosen will only need to step across the hall and squat in the clerk's chair. A. M. Kilgore is not ashamed of his ability as a keeper of books and a master up of columns of figures. He also made several Republican stump speeches during the campaign and this clerkship is all the reward he asks. W. A. Kennedy, who once was city clerk of Lakeside, would be pleased to draw the $1500 salary attached to the job, as also would Assistant Postmaster George T. Hughes, who formerly held the office. Frank Clarke, Jr., ex-city clerk, has been accused of wanting Abell's job. At one time those who claimed to be on the inside said that Frank had a lead pipe cinch on the place, but now there are those who deny that he wants a public position of any kind. They say that the City Street Railway scheme is not dead and that Burke's job with that beats any city clerkship. As usual, Frank grins and says nothing. As intimated, T. W. Abell would be pleased to continue his duties as clerk.

There is going to be music in the fire department if it stays really to tell which they are the shows. Already a petition in circulation that Chief Jackson be bounced and that an outside man be given his place. Some claim that he is not fit to be chief, others say he is not fit to be a fireman and some have it in for him on other grounds. It is generally thought that he is not the man for the job, but his old position as assistant at No. 2 will suit him better. If he is given that and an outside man is chosen for chief, the fire department will be a new administration.

A year ago Assistant Chief T. H. Little was bounced and Jackson took his place. There is quite a sentiment now in favor of bouncing Jackson and giving Little the chiefship. Some say, however, that Little does not want to be chief, but that his old position as assistant at No. 2 will suit him better. If he is given that and an outside man is chosen for chief, the fire department will be a new administration.

With her good looks to aid her and a willingness to work long and hard, it is possible that Miss Clemmons, by starting at the bottom of the ladder, might in the distant future become an actress. She certainly is not without talent. Already, too, large numbers have bobbed up who in any capacity want to "run wild" and make a few dollars for blue clothes with silvered buttons.

There is an assessor to be chosen. J. E. Cooley, who is said to think that he is the only man in Duluth who has the genius to make a million dollars out of the bottle, wants his old job and if there are others, they are not sticking up their hands. James Smith has made a good assessor, but he will probably have to make way for Mr. Cooley. It is admitted by all that Alex McGregor will be his own successor on the city board. Mr. Hart goes out and Mr. Helinski will be in the minority. Just who Hart's successor will be, no one is sure. The name of L. O. Gratings has been sprung but he is a Democrat and there are a good many who do not want an appointment given to a railroad president where so many of the rank and file in the party are only too willing to take the appointment. If Commissioner Little gets the position, he will probably resign and that may result in two Republicans on the fire board.

Of course the mayor must have a private secretary. Some say that Ed. W. Smith has the inside track. James Goss, the old newspaper man, would be pleased to get the appointment and he says that he is still in the race. It is reliably reported that there is a host of other aspirants but they are keeping their heads mighty low.

There is a countless multitude almost of fellows who want to secure Tom O'Brien's job as junior engineer and chief of the city hall. The city hall people say that they will revolt if Tom is bounced, and as he is an old sailor, a member of the G. A. R., and a man who cast his vote for Lewis, he is not thought to be any danger. Early in the game it was given out that Joe Dwyer wanted Noble Sampson's place as weighmaster. Joe says he is a harder man than Sampson but the latter says that he is on a much better footing than Dwyer. The latest is that Dwyer will be content to boss the water wagons another year.

There are some inspectors in the health department to be re-appointed. West Duluth must have two. Dr. Robinson, Smith, Carlson, Johnson, Cameron, Daniels and Burbank, inspectors, and W. H. Nesbit, meat inspector, all want their places another year, but there are many willing to succeed them.

There is a certain demand for a building inspector to succeed J. H. Robinson. He has the duties of his position down fine and would like to stay where he is. Alex Kinghorn is being pushed for the place by some.

It is pretty certain that Emil Applehagen will have to take off his blue coat and hunt another job, as he is a Democrat and there are a good many who do not want an appointment given to a railroad president where so many of the rank and file in the party are only too willing to take the appointment. If Commissioner Little gets the position, he will probably resign and that may result in two Republicans on the fire board.

Of course the mayor must have a private secretary. Some say that Ed. W. Smith has the inside track. James Goss, the old newspaper man, would be pleased to get the appointment and he says that he is still in the race. It is reliably reported that there is a host of other aspirants but they are keeping their heads mighty low.

A THEATRICAL REVIEW

"A Lady of Venice," Produced by Crude Kathrine Clemmons, Is Declared an Unqualified Failure.

"The Ogalallas," Pretty Music Said to be Weighted Down by a Fearfully Bad Libretto.

"The Butterflies," With John Drew in the Leading Role, Is Pronounced a Great Success.

New York, Feb. 21.—When I took up a programme in the Fifth Avenue theater the other night and read the simple announcement, "Kathrine Clemmons and her own company, presenting the romantic play 'A Lady of Venice,' in five acts," the inference was not natural that at last we had a dramatic author who was too modest to permit his name to appear. "A Lady of Venice" is not a very far in her adventures, however, but I realized that the conceit, whoever he or she may be, is sufficient of a critic to recognize the hopeless impotency and unqualified inability of the work. Modesty evidently out of a very small figure in the world of the name. It would mark the brain of the chess player Steinitz to a dangerous degree to attempt to detail the supposed intricacies of the "plot" of "A Lady of Venice." Besides it isn't intrinsically interesting, so the conceit, whoever he or she may be, is sufficient of a critic to recognize the hopeless impotency and unqualified inability of the work.
